School groups agree children come first

BEVERLY McANALLY

Members of the Romulus Education Association negotiating team Mrs. Peg Ross, Richard Kahle, John Domas and Jim Hart, met with Mrs. Fran Petre, president of the Romulus Area PTA Council, Friday, to outline their mutual concerns relative to current and future teacher contract negotiations.

As a result, a meeting was scheduled, to include PTA leaders, community members and REA representatives, at 1 p.m. on Thursday, July 29, at Cory Elementary School, 35200 Smith Rd.

Mrs. Petre indicated that in her opinion PTA members and citizens were concerned about many of the items that are being discussed in negotiations. "Most of the things we talked about were matters that have also been discussed in PTA meetings and school related gatherings through the years." said Mrs. Petre. "However, I would like for the membership to hear the negotiators themselves and voice their own opinions."

Jim Hart, executive director for the REA, extended to the PTA groups and community members, the good will and interest of the teacher's group.

He affirmed that the welfare and education of the children of Romulus was the primary interest of both groups. "Teachers want to be more responsive to the community they serve." he said, "We want to reflect the attitudes and aspirations of the people."

He indicated the teacher group's interest in working with PTA and citizen groups during the coming year to develop suggestions for changes and innovations that might be included in future negotiations. "We see parents and teachers working together in a cooperative effort for the benefit of the children." he said.

Parent-Teacher Conferences were cited as an example of cooperation between the two groups. (Parent conferences at the secondary level were dropped during the past year. PTA Council had petitioned the school board to reinstate them in current negotiations.)

According to Richard Kahle, chief negotiator, it was because of community concern that Parent- Teacher Conferences were included as an item in this year's teacher negotiations.

While the negotiating team did not minimize the importance of salary increases, they emphasized that they were only interested in remaining competitive in the Wayne County area. They affirmed that they were asking for increases over their present wages. Kahle quoted statistics on a national average of labor settlements that show increases in excess of 9 percent over last year's salary settlements.

Of greater importance, according to teacher negotiators, are several non-economic items, that have not as yet been acted upon. Foremost, said Kahle, is increased use of remedial programs. "Our position is that students with learning disabilities require specialized classroom experiences (Remedial reading, crisis rooms for emotionally disturbed, etc.). We feel that these problems must be solved in the elementary grades." said John Domas, junior high counselor, "If a youngster hasn't learned to read, for example, by the time he gets to junior high school, the problem is so fixed it is almost impossible to correct."

The teacher group is asking for additional staff for concentrated efforts in the elementary buildings for remedial programs. They ask that the number of children to be served be determined by classroom teacher evaluation and testing.

OLD ROMULUS CITY HALL — A former grange hall, built about 65 years ago, has been used as the site for the administration offices of Romulus for more than 20 years. The old township government occupied the building, located at Sterling and Goddard Rd., until May, 1970, when the Township of Romulus was incorporated as a city. The administrative and legislative offices have now moved into the community's new Municipal Building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

City officials, staff occupy new offices

By HENRY CANTIN

The administrative and legislative offices of the City of Romulus are now housed in the city's new and air-conditioned Municipal Building.

Moving operations from the old city hall, located at 36572 Goddard Rd. at Sterling, to plush quarters at 11111 S. Wayne Rd. near Goddard Rd. were conducted over Friday and Saturday.

City officials led by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and city employes along with various department heads moved office equipment, records and other city hall materials to the new structure.

On Monday it was business as usual at the new Municipal Building.

The new city hall, one of four buildings planned for the communitys' municipal Complex, is a two-level facility with more than 14,000 square feet of floor space. The building is modern in every detail and is constructed of blond brick.

City officials are located in large and well-arranged offices.

The new council chamber, located on the first floor has a seating capacity of 144 persons. Members of council are afforded ample room around a court-bench type desk spread across the front of the council chamber.

The room is complete with an amplifying system.

A community room for club and service organization meetings is located on the lower level of the building.

Parking for 160 cars is provided for at the new city facility.

The new Municipal Building is adjacent to Romulus' 40,000 volume library. Both are built on a portion of a 16-acre parcel of city-owned land on the southeast corner of S. Wayne and Goddard Rds.

The municipal complex, when completed, will include a police headquarters and a community-civic center and possible a court building.

The new city hall replaced a former grange hall built 70 to 75 years ago. This building was used by the old township government for more than 20 years.

In May, 1970, when Romulus was incorporated into cityhood, council and city officials use the building. Increased operations forced the city council to use a small conference room in the Waterboard Building, 36515 Ribbin[illegible] Other boards and commissions were also forced to conduct their meetings at the Waterboard Building.

Construction of the Municipal Complex was under the supervision of the Romulus Building Authority, composed of three members. Howard Dubisky, president; Leo M. Kalota, secretary; and Edmund L. Galaska, treasurer.

The building authority, in 1969, obtained approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission on a $1,975,000 bond issue to finance the two initial structures of the municipal complex.

Manufacturers National Bank was the successful bidder on the purchase of the bond issue.

When the present bond issue and others that will be required to finance the municipal complex are retired, ownership of the buildings will pass onto the city.

The bonds will be retired by rental proceeds.

New bids will be taken on sewer construction

The taking of new sealed contract bids for phase one of Romulus' 1971 water and sanitary sewer construction program has been authorized by City Council.

Council's action was based on recommendations of Wade, Trim & Associates, Inc., of Taylor, the city's consulting engineers.

In April, the city council approved the letting of contract bids for the community's $900,000 plus water and sanitary sewer program.

Charles C. Hellman, of Wade & Trim Associates reported to council that only three of the 13 bidders obtaining plans have submitted bids. He said that the low bid exceeded the proposed construction cost by approximately $174,000.

He also reported to council that five contractors that did not bid but took out plans have been contacted and they indicated a desire to submit a proposal if the project was re-bid.

"The consensus of opinion from these contractors was that most projects in this area had so many bidders, they did not bother. Plus, several indicated that because of the long week-end, they did not complete their bid." Hellman said.

He recommended the council reject and the project be re-bid Council agreed. The new bid deadline is Aug. 3.

The city's water program has an estimated construction cost of $251,000. It involves Henry Ruff Water Main from Ecorse Rd. to Van Born Rd.; Inkster Road Water Replacement from Goddard Rd. south; Pennsylvania Rd. from a point 1,200 feet east of Vining Rd. to existing main 2,000 east; and Hannan Rd. extension.

The sanitary sewer construction program for the current year has an estimated construction cost of $659,000. The sewer program involves the following areas:

Chase and Hannan Rds. Sanitary Sewer; Grant Rd. and Huron River Dr., south side of Ecorse Rd., between Hannan and Cogswell Rd.; east side of Huron River Dr. north of Eureka Rd., south side of North Line Rd. from Harrison to Homefield St., Wade and Cogswell Rds., Inkster Rd. north of Goddard Rd.; and Jones St. from Goddard to Ozga Rds.

Romulus City attorney requests dismissal of police suit

The Wayne County Circuit Court has been asked by the City of Romulus to dismiss a suit filed against the city by the Romulus Police Officers Association.

A motion for summary judgment of dismissal was filed by City Attorney John E. Young.

Briefs on the law were filed by both Young and Edward P. Joseph of Flint, attorney for the Fraternal Order of Police, representing the association.

Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Farmer took the motion and briefs under advisement July 9.

The association initiated its suit in December, 1970. The suit charges that the city violated terms of a current employment contract with RPOA when the city contracted with the Wayne County Sheriff Department for 24-hour police protection in the city.

The suit also charged that the city violated terms of the City Charter which states that Romulus must develop its own police department and that the sheriff's Road Patrol Division that would be employed under the terms of the contract does not qualify under the charter.

Collecting in August

City starting taxing job

The City of Romulus will begin collecting the city portion of the 1971-72 taxes on approximately Aug. 15, City Treasurer Albert Glinski announced Monday.

This is the first summer that Romulus is collecting only the city tax portion of property tax assessments. Previously Romulus collected a combination tax.

The county and school tax portions of the 1971-72 property tax levies will be due on Dec. 1 as in previous years, Glinski reported.

Any city special assessments, such as street lighting, delinquent water and sewer bills, etc., will be collected with the city taxes in August.

Tax bills will be payable without penalty within 90 days of the date of mailing, and may be paid to the treasurer's office in the new Romulus City Hall, located at 11111 S. Wayne Rd. near Goddard Rd.

For the convenience of their customers, all the Romulus branches of the Manufacturers National Bank, Security Bank & Trust, Wyandotte Savings Bank, Wayne Bank in the City of Wayne and the National Bank of Detroit will accept city tax payments.

The millage for Romulus for 1971 is as follows: City Operation, $5.60; Water Millage, $3; and Sewer Tax, $4, or a total tax assessment by the city of $12.60 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized.

The county tax assessment for the 1971 year is $7.16 and the school tax is $30.67 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized.

In reviewing a typical home in a Romulus subdivision having an assessed evaluation of house and lot of $3,950, Glinski disclosed the city tax computation as follows:

The state equalization factor for the City of Romulus this year is $1.58. Multiply the $3,950 by this factor to arrive at a state equalization value of $6,241. This figure is then multiplied by the city tax rate of $12.60. The 1971-72 city tax assessment would be $78.63.

'Hire A Kid' has slow start

Romulus High School students in search of employment through a volunteer "Hire A Kid" job agency, report a "restrained" response from potential employers.

Youthful volunteers have been meeting at the high school with assistant principal Earl Lamb to process nearly 200 applications from ninth, tenth and eleventh grade boys and girls who are looking for some type of summer work.

They have also been making phone calls to area businessmen attempting to interest them in the program.

They were encouraged by Romulus businessman Bill Wheeler who operates the "7-11" store at 8498 S. Wayne Rd.

Wheeler, after reading about the program in the Romulus Roman, became the first to respond with a job offer. "I felt that even though I was a small operation I could help out by hiring at least one kid." he said. As a result, seventeen year old Gilbert Baker became "Hire A Kid's" first placement.

Lamb reports that there are many young people who are looking for yard work, baby sitting, janitor, clerk or any type of job that give them an opportunity to keep busy and earn a little money.

Anyone interested in helping out with a job offer may contact Lamb by calling 941-2170.

Trailer eviction trial scheduled

Eviction proceedings initated against two families residing in the Royal Village Trailer Park, will be aired before a jury in the court room of 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 15.

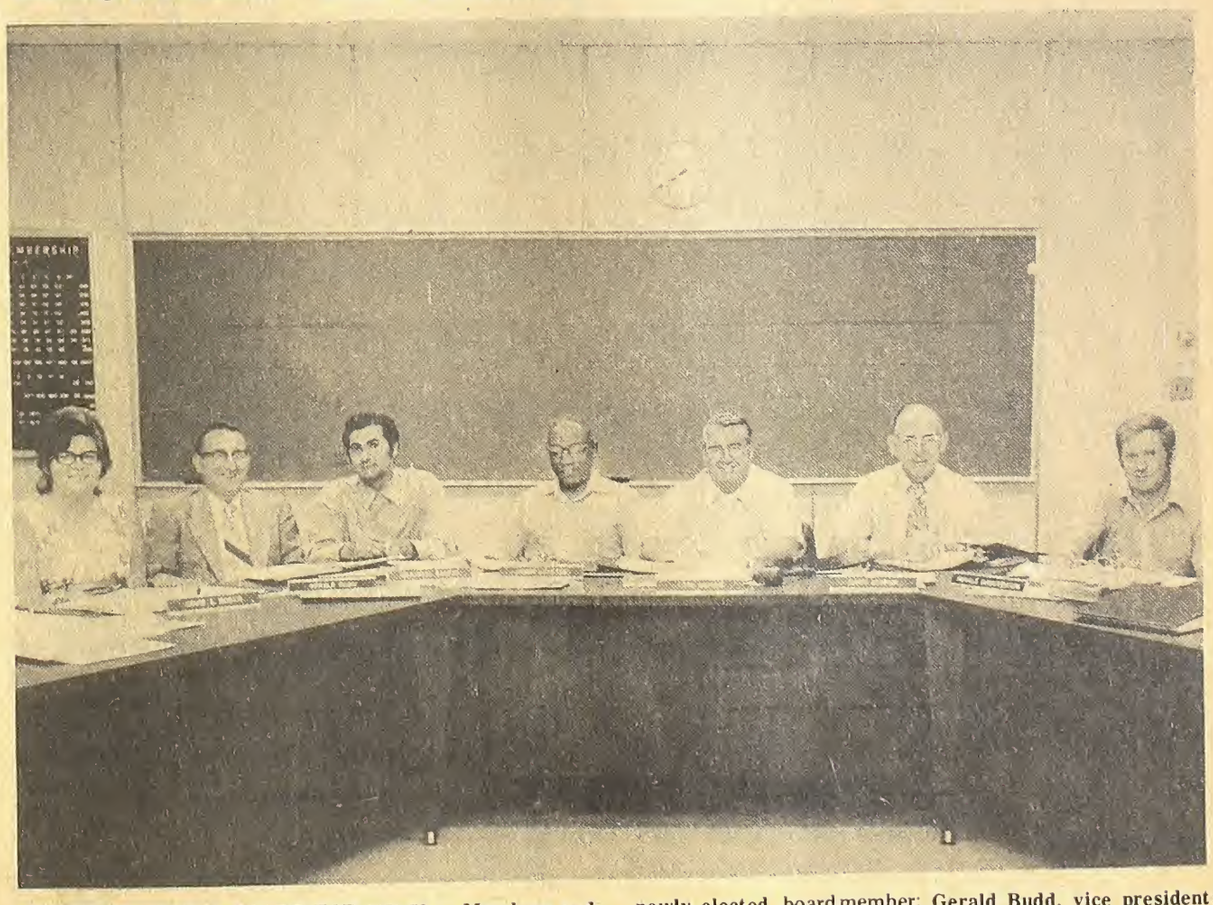
Court Clerk Charles Walls, in announcing the date of the jury trial, stated that attorneys for opposing sides have agreed to the long adjournment to allow time for the taking of depositions in the case.

The trailer park is located on Van Born Rd between Middlebelt and Inkster Rds.

The eviction proceedings are against Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, 6069 Pan Am; and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Rushing, neighbors at the trailer park.

The tenants contend that the eviction is the result of a dispute and alleged altercation over the ownership of some patio blocks reportedly given to the Smiths by a former trailer park resident.

Arthur Coveyou, trailer park manager for the last four years, had denied that the patio blocks ownership was the reason for the eviction proceedings but rather an assault upon him during a discussion about the patio blocks being removed to a lot occupied by the Smith trailer.



ROMULUS SCHOOL BOARD FOR 1971-72 — Members and officers of the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education took time out Monday night to pose for picture taking. The officers for the 1971-72 school year and other board members are (from left) Mrs. Diane L. Boger, trustee and newly elected board member; Gerald Budd, vice president; Gervazio Canejo, trustee; Jason P. Lovette, treasurer; Carl W. Morris, president; Davis B. Draper, secretary; and Ronald Christensen, trustee.

Shirley attending London meeting

Alton P. Shirley, prominent Belleville area attorney and president of the Belvil Community Hospital Corporation, will be among Michigan attorneys attending sessions in London, England of the 94th annual meeting of the American Bar Association.

The Michigan delegation of lawyers left on a chartered Braniff International airliner at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Metro Airport. They will return on Aug. 2.

The American Bar Association held some sessions of the 94th annual meeting in New York (July 14 to July 20.) The last session held in London was in 1957.

The program in London lists an impressive number of meetings on various fields of law will be discussed with comparisons between the British practices and those in the United States.

English judges, international lawyers, experts in their respective fields of law will be speakers and participate in panel discussions at the meeting.

The Michigan delegation will also visit famed and historical structures and sites that played important roles in English law.

Lake survey planned

Michigan District Fish Biologist Raymond J. Spitler, speaking before the members of the Huron Valley Conservation Association at a recent meeting held at Rogalle's Supper Lounge made a strong pitch for a survey to be conducted at the local Belleville Lake waters.

Spitler, representing the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, told the membership the purpose of the survey would be to determine the "rough fish population."

According to Spitler, the amoung of carp in these waters is "overwhelming."

The biologist explained that a result of this survey would be an indication as to what action should be taken to better control the waters.

Spitler expressed hope that those interested in seeing this type of survey taken should make their feelings known in Lansing.

Two face sentencing in barroom murders

A Dearborn man and a 27-year-old Romulus woman, found guilty by a jury of three men and nine women of first degree murder faced sentence July 20.

The pair, convicted before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James N. Canham after seven hours of jury deliberation, are Michael J. Barbat, 34, of Dearborn; and Mrs. Eula G. Unsworth, 27, of 8160 Dodge St., Romulus, a mother of seven children.

They were convicted of the robbery-murder of a Dearborn bar owner and a Westland patron.

Killed were Lawrence Suprenaut, 33, of 31020 Middlebury, Westland, and Maria Solomie, 62, owner of the Solomie's Bar, located at 10081 Eagle, Dearborn where the crime occurred.

Both victims were found on the barroom floor about 10 a.m. Jan. 29, by police. Suprenaut had been shot in the chest and his throat was slit. Mrs. Solomie's throat also was slit.

Barbat was arrested by police in Indianapolis on March 21 and Mrs. Unsworth was arrested at the Greyhound bus station, Detroit, two days later.

Both were arrested on federal flight warrants after a two-month search.

Kids festival at library

The schedule of films for the children's Summer Film Festival at the new Romulus Library, located at 11121 S. Wayne Rd., near Goddard Road is announced by Miss Diane Covert, librarian.

The schedule is as follows: "Doughnuts" on July 16, "Bear Country" on July 23, "Detroit Zoo" on July 30, "The Hound That Thought He Was a Raccoon" on Aug. 6, "Nicky and Rock" on Aug. 13, "Paddle-to-the-Sea" on Aug. 20, and "White Cane" on Aug. 27.

The films will be shown each Friday morning at 10 a.m.

Miss Covert also announced that registration is continuing for both the Pre-School Story Hour and the Summer Reading Club.

Suit dismissal sought in court

Young, in his motion for dismissal, contended that as a matter of law the suit has no basis.

The contract with the sheriff's department approved by Romulus City Council more than six months ago but not formally signed has been revised by the Law Enforcement and Public Safety Committee and approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The revised contract calls for higher annual payment due to "rising" costs.

The initial year's cost is $378,000 for 16-man sheriff's Road Patrol force and two patrol units operating 24 hours a day.

The revised contract is yet to be accepted by Romulus City Council.

Robert Kahl, president of the Romulus Police Officers Association announced last week that he and members of the present 10-man police force would all resigne rather than accept transfer to the sheriff's department.

He also disclosed that the association is prepared to go all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court in their court case if necessary.

City employes resume contract negotiations

Negotiating teams representing the City of Romulus and Local 214 of the Teamsters State, County & Municipal Workers resumed discussions Tuesday on a proposed 1971-72 employment contract for city employees

Local 214 representative Joseph Valenti announced the start on overall phases of the contract last Thursday after deferring the initiation of an unfair labor charge against the city with the Michigan Department of Labor Relations.

The local's officials were preparing to file unfair labor charges because of an alleged failure of the city to negotiate the contract.

The language of the proposed contract had been tentatively agreed upon, Valenti reported, and he added that the city's negotiation committee had "refused to move further."

The city attorney, when informed of the local's intentions to start proceedings before the state labor board, requested yesterday's session, Valenti reported.

Local 214 was selected by city employes in an election held last April and conducted by the Michigan Labor Mediation Board.

MARIE DEBUYSSCHER

Council selects recreation head

The appointment of Mrs. Marie DeBuysscher, 37839 Westvale, Romulus, as director of Romulus' Summer Recreation Program, has been approved by City Council.

Mrs. DeBuysscher, currently secretary of the Romulus Recreation commission chairman.

She will receive a weekly salary of $125 during the eight week recreation program. She will not receive any compensation during this time as secretary of the commission or have any voice in its deliberations.

Mrs. DeBuysscher has been active in recreational activities for youth of the community for a number of years.

Councilman William M. Oakley moved for approval of the appointment. He was supported by Councilman Ellis T. Pennington, formerly head of the recreation commission under township government. The council agreed unanimously.

Corzetti C. Jones, 25, of 35680 Goddard Rd., teacher and counselor at Romulus Senior High School, headed the Romulus Recreation Program until June 30, the expiration date of his appointment by city council.

Many species

There are at least 1,100 species of palm trees.

Palm trees live from 60 to 100 years and bear fruit that runs the gamut from pea-sizzd berries to 40-pound double coconuts.

Mobile park owner to cooperate

The owner of the Royal Village Trailer Park, recent target of tenants' complaints for alleged violations of Romulus Building Codes and Michigan Mobile Home Park code requirements, has expressed a willingness to cooperate with city officials in ironing out the complaints.

A group of tenants had complained to Romulus City Council on June 23 and had demanded action. Through their spokesman, Robert Plank, the group listed 13 violations of the city's zoning ordinance and building codes.

The alleged violations included open electrical connections, trailers leaning to one side, two trailers on one site, no sewer connections in some instances, trailers back to back, campers permitted to set up in the park, bad roads and poor bottle gas storage.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, in his report to council, said that Dr. Leslie Moss of Southfield, park owner, has expressed a willingness to bring the park up to standards and met last Thursday with the city attorney and building inspector in an attempt to resolve the problems.

The mayor also reported that some of the violations found are violations by trailer owners.

Royal Village Trailer Park is located on Van Born Rd., between Inkster and Middlebelt Rds.

Kids come first groups agree

Class sizes are of interest to both parents and teachers, agreed Mrs. Petre. Teachers, according to Kahle, want optimum class sizes to be stated in specific numbers along with acceptable maximums on a building basis rather than a district average.

Of special concern are advanced kindergarten enrollments that indicate in some buildings as many as 38 and 39 children in each session. "Imagine the problem of getting that many children in and out of winter coats and boots, not mention teaching." Kahle said.

Another item of mutual interest was student discipline and teacher protection. The REA holds that board policy on student discipline, suspensions, explusions, etc. should be made available to each student, teacher and parent at the start of the school year.

They further ask that the board policy include a definition of the role of the principal. They say that teachers cannot maintain good order and discipline in the classroom without consistent and active support from the building principal and the Board of Education.

In our opinion

Feuding should stop, educating should begin

Education is big business in Western Wayne County.

The teachers of our various districts have a grave responsibility on their hands and it is essential that the local school systems employ only the best educators they can find.

This is particularly true of the Westwood school system with its many, many problems. The teachers of that system have a lot of obstacles to contend with in doing their job.

It is obvious that the board is aware of the situation and it has sought the solution it saw fit to take at the time. However, it is time for a change.

The bitter feud existing between the board and the teachers for the past 17 months has ripped the district apart unnecessarily. It is time that both parties met at the bargaining table with the serious intent of coming up with a contract.

The factfinder's report on the contract feud has provided a nucleus of a settlement. It is imperative that both sides take advantage of this opportunity.

In a time of high inflation when many many blue collar workers are getting big raises, it seems somewhat ludicrous that the board after to increase the wages of its experienced master degreed teachers by less than one per cent.

It has been argued that in this time of teacher surplus the board can afford to offer such salary inducements and still attract quality teachers. This is not the case. In that surplus are many more poorly qualified teachers.

It is the unqualified teacher who will be attracted to a district where a teacher with a decade of experience can look foreward to losing 6.2 per cent of his buying power each year.

The Westwood school system has an unfortunate reputation because of its history of racial strife, political bickering and teacher relations. This will not attract true teachers.

It is time that the district began to dispel that reputation. The time to turn the corner and to begin the hard work of creating a top quality school district is here.

This is a day of intense competition for every job available and any child coming out of a crippled school district is going to have his opportunities lessened.

It is time that the board and the teachers realize that their first responsibility is to the children. The school board was not elected by the voters to wage open warfare with anyone holding a teacher's certificate.

The opportunity is here and only the most callous and narrow-minded can avoid realizing this.

The board has three new members: a new president, vice-president and treasurer, Dr. Hunt has been superintendent less than three weeks and a reasonable recommendation has been delivered by the factfinder.

We urge the board to reassess its position in negotiations and to behave with the education of its children in mind.

It is essential for these children to get a competitive educaton. To do this the district must attract top-notch teachers with a competitive salary schedule.

The factfinder has pointed out several methods the school district can afford to pay its teachers, maybe it is time to listen to his report instead of arguing.

Maybe it is time that the Westwood School District begin to mend the wounds incurred by this bitter feud and get down to the business of educating.

Welfare expenses rise sharply

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK State Representative 38th District

For the second time in its 1971 session, the legislature has had to pass supplementary appropriations to enable the department of social services to pay its bills.

Because of a sharp rise in welfare costs the department's expenses had exceeded its appropriation for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

The first bill granted the department $50 million to carry it through the rest of the year. When this sum proved inadequate, it was necessary recently to authorize an additional $25 million to keep the department in the black to the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

The bill provides money to continue Aid To Dependent Children (ADC) for the rest of the month, and to pay for medical, hospital and pharmaceutical services. Without approval of the measure, the department would have had to temporarily stop its ADC payments.

The social services department reports a staggering increase in its caseload during the past year. At one point it was increasing at the rate of 3,500 cases a month but this has now leveled off to about 1,800 cases a month.

Meanwhile, the House appropriations committee, prompted by a newspaper claim that welfare abuses have resulted in a loss of $15 million, met with representatives of the social services and treasury departments and the governor's and auditor general's offices.

Although the committee determined that losses came closer to $1 million than $15 million, it did receive suggestions to tighten regulations. The committee was told that much of the loss is due to checks re-issued to cover checks which recipients said were lost or stolen.

The House Appropriations Subcommittee on social services has been conducting a study into welfare fraud and abuse, the employment of welfare recipients, administrative procedures and eligibility and inter-governmental relations.

The study has produced recommendations for additional funds and increased efforts to locate absent fathers and thus reduce state costs for Aid To Dependent Children and for an appropriation to permit the social services department to perform an intensive audit to staff performances.

Also signed was a supplemental appropriations bill of $400,000 for the financially-troubled Wayne County Community College. The additional money does not solve all of the college's immediate problems, but will help pay operational expenses. It has been estimated that as much as $200,000 more is needed just to carry the college through the current fiscal year. It is also estimated that the school will need some $2.5 million for its past debts and obligations.

Earlier in the session, the House passed a bill to require Blue Cross to contract with all state-licensed hospitals in Michigan, rather than dealing with some hospitals and not others. The Senate has made certain changes in the proposal by substituting its own bill for the House measure and sent the substitute bill back to the House.

In addition to requiring the hospitalization insurance company to contract with all state-licensed and municipally-owned hospitals, it would mandate contracts with any licensed extended-care facility and any county medical care facility approved by the state for post-hospital care.

The Senate substitute stipulates that such extended care contracts provide subscriber payment to the facility in keeping with the cost of the care but not to exceed 50 per cent of the average cost of care reimbursement made to local general hospitals.

Millage defeat sad, says student reader

To the editor:

Recently our school millage was voted down for the second time this year. I feel as many others do, this was a very sad thing to happen.

We need this money to run our schools and if we don't have it the "students" will suffer.

There are many other uses our school taxes go for, but I'm only speaking about the students because I feel they're the important factors of our educational system.

When money is limited the teachers will be given 35-40 students in one classroom. These teachers will be expected to teach these students the same as when there were only 20-25 students in a class.

It is very hard to control a classroom of this size plus give each student the adequate attention he or she may need.

When classes become this large it is almost impossible to have any relationship between the student and teacher except professional wise.

When dealing with students no matter what age level, it is important to get to know them on a friendly basis.

A student suffers in many ways when money is cut off.

Teachers receive their pink slips, meaning, no money, no job next year. This causes our over loaded classroom with limited help for each student.

Sometimes the school activities are cut out or unfortunately the Special Education Classes are dropped from the school program.

Before this happens in our scchool district, let's do something about it.

Sure, our taxes will go up but our children need this aspect of their lives, such as good education and if we their parents, their friends and their neighbors deny them of this, who else will help them?

I feel we can't make students learn, all we can do is keep the doors open, and offer everything in our power to encourage our students to learn.

Legislators scramble for vet bills action

By DON HOENSHELL

Motherhood and a bumper crop won't get as much attention as the Vietnam veteran returning home to a stumbling economy.

Legislators are scrambling for action and credit in their running start on a bonus and educational and housing benefits.

The only certain thing at the moment is that voters will be asked to approve a $100 million bond issue, a process followed after World War II, and the Korean conflict.

Various versions of the program have surfaced in the legislature and efforts are being made to coordinate them into a package for the ballot this fall at the earliest.

Patrick Joy, a senior at Michigan State University who won't benefit, spoke as president of the Michigan Association of College Veterans:

"When our fathers returned from World II, they returned to a booming economy, many of them returned to jobs they held previous to the war.

"Those who wished to further their education received $500 a year for tuition and fees, plus a living allowance of from $75 to $120 a month. In addition (they) received a cash bonus.

"These benefits encouraged close to 50 per cent of the men returning to attend some type of educational, vocational or technical training. Today, only 20 per cent of the Vietnam veterans go on to receive further education or training."

He said the unemployment figure for the returning veteran is double the 8 per cent plus shown for the rest of Michigan's economy.

The first bonus bill was started last year by Russell Hellman (D-Dollar Bay). It died in committee.

This year Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-Romulus) sponsored a bonus bill giving veterans a $500 maximum and educational benefits of $1,000 a year for two years.

Sen. James D. Gray (D-Warren) built on Mahalak's plan, but extended the educational plan to four years and offered a state-guaranteed loan of up to $10,000 for buying a home or business.

Gray appeared at the meeting at which Rep. Joseph P. Swallow (R-Alpena) proposed a $100 million bond issue for the 1971 ballot and is seeking a two-thirds vote in both houses. to place it there.

Legislature - watchers expect that the veterans benefit issue will rank with the bills to benefit senior citizens as an attractive thing to do in a year presenting the election.

And the issue gains momentum when lawmakers remember that the voting age has been dropped from 21 to 18 in all national, state and local elections.

Federal statistics show that the G.I. bill of rights for World War II veterans paid for itself in increased taxes paid after educational training, not to mention other benefits.

State Selective Service officials estimate 250,000 Michigan veterans of Vietnam will claim one or all of the three benefits, education, the home or business loan and the bonus.

Lawmakers want to push for the educational package for veterans first, then tackle the bonus question.

Joy estimated that almost 17 per cent of the Vietnam veterans returning have not yet completed high school and the Michigan Employment Security Commission says unskilled workers have invaded the job market.

The best available estimates show that the bonus will cost $75 million and the educational and other benefits $100 million. The only source for retiring the bonds now is the state's crisis-ridden general fund.

Whatever the condition of the state treasury and whatever the pangs over fiscal and tax reform in Michigan, its veterans of Vietnam have the promise:

They will get benefits designed by lawmakers and the taxpayers will pick up the tab.

In years gone by. . .

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

JULY 14, 1946 — Several members of Wayne high school class of 1904-05 enjoyed their annual reunion at Tyler Street Church on Sunday. After a bountiful dinner, the afternoon was spent renewing old friendships, group singing, and reporting messages of interest from friends who have been widely separated from their home town.

———

Unless Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, changes his mind, certain Wayne and Garden City ex-GI's will face re-induction into the Army.

Hershey, in calling from 25,000 selectees in September at the end of the draft moritorium, notified state boards that reconsideration of veterans who had not served overseas more than six months would be in order.

Jack Piscopink, pitching for the Wayne Merchants, shutout the Linderman Nine last Sunday on the Inkster diamond, 5-0. The win put the locals in a two-way tie for fourth place with the Plymouth Cloverdale squad in the big inter-county league.

With Piscopink on the mound and Tobacco behind the plate, the Merchants allowed the opposing nine but five scattered safeties, while collecting nine. Piscopink boosted his strikeout record while fanning 10 batters.

15 YEARS AGO

July 14, 1956 — Calling the Wayne Community school system "particularly fortunate", Superintendent Stuart Openlander this week commended the people who have worked for the improvement of Wayne schools, and said his work here has been a "great source of satisfaction."

Openlander, who will leave his job with the Wayne system in the fall for a similar post with the city of Dearborn, promised that he would continue to work for the betterment of Wayne.

———

Mrs. Celia Johnson of Inkster and her daughter Julia, and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas of Belleville attended a Baha'i meeting at the Oakdale community center in Ferndale on Sunday afternoon, July 8.

The theme of the local meetings was the evolution of the Baha'i World faith, especially progress made in the Holy Land.

———

In the season opener for Garden City's Little League played Friday at the Legion field, the Braves defeated the Giants, 18 to 12.

The game was called because of darkness in the sixth inning by umpire "Lucky" Kirkeby, commander of the post.

Mayor Schaller, with words of encouragement and good wishes, threw the first ball and the game was on.

The Warren Valley Golf Club was the scene of the 2nd annual Wayne County employes golf tourney last Saturday.

Almost one hundred participants vied for a share of the 50 prizes donated by judges throughout the county. Judge Kaufman and Cody were among the prize givers.

ONE YEAR AGO

July 14, 1970 — In the course of planning improvements for the oldest cemetery in Wayne, it has been discovered that the landmark has been without an official name for more than a century.

Local historians say the first references to the graveyard dubbed it the Old Bury'in Grounds and official records show the Michigan Avenue West site as the Burial Plat.

———

Anthony (Bill) Bielecki has kicked off his campaign for State Senator in the 13th District. Bielecki, unopposed in the Republican primary, will face the winner of the Democratic primery, either incumbent State Senator William Faust or challenger Rep. Vincent Petitpren.

———

The Canton Lions Club will focus its project for this year's Wayne County 4-H Fair on raising money for the blind.

The Lions will have a booth in the exhibit building and participate in the pre-fair parade Aug. 18. The fair will begin at noon that day and last until 8 p.m. Aug. 23.

Gerald L. Nelson, director of Parks and Recreation, will represent Inkster at the Michigan Parks and Recreation Association Conference today through Friday.

———

After losing its inaugural game in the Garden City Major Softball League this season, George Smith has roared back to win 13 straight and take command of the league.

Smith's won a 7-6 squeaker over second place Burton Plumbing to preserve its streak and to pull away from the runnerup by four full games.

Residents appalled; no flags on Fourth

To the editor:

We are former residents of New York State and as new residents of Michigan looked forward to our first observance of July Fourth in our new home.

We are appalled at the lack of patriotic enthusiasm of our fellow residents converging to view the water show and fireworks display, but you could count the flags on display on one hand (less than five.)

A flag, staff and bracket costs less than $5 and should be as much a part of every household as a refrigerator, stove, sink, TV, automobile and barbecue.

We hope that in the future we will view the flag on all homes and business establishments in the Belleville area.

One of the first chores we performed in our new home was to display our country's flag.

We wonder if patriotism is dead or just mislaid?

Chairman denies PCHA election

By JOE CHAREST

A request by three board members for a special meeting of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) Board of Directors has been denied by Board Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti.

The request, signed by Walter Sudak, of Southgate, Elmer Parraghi, Sumpter Township, and John K. Kessey, of Melvindale, asked for a meeting for the purpose of conducting a new election for officers of the board.

Public Act 47 of the Public Acts of 1945 states that the chair shall call a meeting at the request of three members of the board.

However, Pizzimenti is basing his rejection of the request on an opinion from Authority legal counsel B. Ward Smith, of the firm of Cozadd, Shangle and Smith.

That opinion, basically, states that the chairman is not required to call a meeting which would be a "futile effort," to discuss something on which no action could be taken.

The meeting would be futile, Smith's opinion says, because there are no provisions in the law by which these board members can arrange another election this year.

The PCHA board elects officers, an executive committee, and two members at large every year. Since 1962, these elections have been held in the month of February.

Last February, Pizzimenti was re-elected by only one vote, 23 to 22. He has been chairman for five years.

"Based on a precedent of 10 years," Smith said, "it is our conclusion that an election of officers has been held. Members of the board cannot arbitrarily call for another election."

According to Smith, there is also no provision in the Public Act for recall of elected officers.

Following the February election, board member Tracy E. Salisbury, of Ecorse, requested an opinion on the validity of the vote results.

Salisbury was runner-up to Pizzimenti for chairmanship. Walter Sudak, who supported Salisbury, cites questions about the validity of the election as part of the reason he signed the request for a special meeting.

"We feel it was not a valid election," Sudak said. The chairman is supposed to have a majority vote, and that would have been 24. He only had 23."

In that vote count, one ballot was blank. The question was raised as to whether or not that blank vote was admissable.

In the legal opinion requested by Salisbury, Smith quoted Section 5 of Act 47: "The members appointed by the respective cities, villages and township shall convene and thereupon proceed to select the members at large by a majority vote."

However, smith stated, "There is no provision in the section requiring a majority vote for election of the officers and the members of the Executive Committee. It is a recognized principle of statutory construction that the inclusion by specific mention of any requirement excludes what is not mentioned."

The act, Smith said, is silent as to any requirements in connection with the election of the officers and the Executive Committee.

"Based on the foregoing paragraphs," Smith said, "we must conclude that the legislature did not intend that the term "majority vote" be applied to the election of the officers and the members of the Executive Committee."

He also quoted Roberts Rules of Order concerning blank ballots: "A majority vote when used in these rules means a majority of the votes cast, ignoring blanks, at a legal meeting, a quorum being present."

Pizzimenti said that he would not care to speculate on the reasons why the three board members were calling for another election. The letter they sent did not indicate their reasons.

Sudak, however, in stating his dissatisfaction with the election procedure, also said he is angry over the fact that the Authority has hired a Chicago consulting firm to work on the new PCHA Hospital being planned for Taylor.

"I am really disturbed to think," Sudak said, "that with Michigan being a leading state in unemployment, these people would go to an Illinois firm."

He stated that the Authority has hired a local firm to handle renovation work at the present PCHA hospitals. "If they are qualified for that, then why not to build a new hospital?" he added.

Smith said he would not care to speculate on what Sudak, Parraghi and Kessey would do next.

Sudak was unsure, but indicated that an opinion might be sought from the State Attorney General.

July is chocked full of events in Michigan

Vacation travelers with the time and inclination could spend each day in July attending a special occasion or festival in Michigan, reports the Michigan Tourist Council.

The Michigan calendar of travel events, compiled and published by the Council, lists some 77 special events and festivals, in addition to professional sports events, to be held in Michigan during the month.

These celebrations include a variety of activities ranging from the National Strawberry Festival at Manistee early in July to the Upper Peninsula Championship Rodeo in Iron River, July 31 - Aug. 1.

Racing fans will find a full schedule of sailboat, canoe and boat races on tap in July. Among these are the Hobie Cat Regatta at Tawas City, July 17-18, the National Stock Outboard Marathon Championship on the Detroit River at Trenton, July 24-25, and the World Championship Au Sable River Canoe Race at Grayling, July 30-31.

For travelers who enjoy a day at the track, the thoroughbreds will be running at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia and there will be harness racing at Northville Downs, Northville. These races are held daily except Sunday during July.

Antique fanciers and art lovers have several Michigan shows to choose from, including the Michigan Invitational Art Exhibition at Ann Arbor, July 21 - Aug. 5, and Art on the Rocks in Marquette, July 31 - Aug. 1.

Agricultural products also are featured in Michigan festivals. There is the National Blueberry Festival in South Haven, July 9-18, National Cherry Festival at Traverse City, July 12-17, and a Potato Festival in Munger, July 29-Aug. 1.

Rounding out the warm-weather events listed in the calendar are centennial celebrations, old-time riverboat shows, a steam rodeo, Civil War cannon and musket shoot and several county fairs.

Free copies of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events and other Michigan vacation planning information can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing.

Bernardo Bertolucci is more than a romantic, he is an improvisational romantic. As such, his films have the flavor of a man who experiments, who sees "what plays and what doesn't." They are designed to catch you up in their essense rather than to allow you to stand back and coldly analyze them.

"The Conformist," for example, a study of a Fascist agent in 1938 working for Mussolini's state, defies dissection at the logical level. Hopefully we will not explain Marcello's life in terms of the homosexual chauffeur who seduced him at age 13 and whom he shot. Let us not look for the life of the son in the souls of the parents, the father institutionalized and the mother flighty. Let us merely accept Marcello at the level implied by the film's title: to get along in Il Duce's society you had best be on Il Duce's side — and it's even better to be his representative, even as a hired killer.

Marcello's yearnings for respectability lead him to a marriage with the extremely middle-class Giulla, but even his honeymoon becomes an assignment as he is under orders to kill an old professor, a refugee in France who has become an anti-Fascist agitator.

Unfortunately, Bertolucci does not discipline himself sufficiently. The viewer is not always sure, for example, when is "now" and when is "flashback." He also likes to experiment with the camera and paint his pictures—a vast expanse of white asylum with a patient in the middle as the target; a cock-eyed camera distorting the angle of the ground. Fellini has done this successfully many times, but when you are at this sort of game you had best be careful it doesn't swallow up your film.

Jean Louis Trintignant, as Marcello, is one of the best things about "The Conformist." There might be a great temptation for an actor attempting this sort of part to retreat behind a stone wall of impassivity, but Trintignant never forgets that Marcello is a real man with real feelings and hopes and aspirations.

The background is an admirable canvas of the late thirties; despite artistic flightiness, Bertolucci is faithful to details.

Finally, there is a basic vigor and dynamism about Bertolucci which generally transcends the lack of discipline. One revels in the heady aroma of a great wine; you don't analyze it in the laboratory. So be it with Bertolucci.

'Zeppelin' suffers from improbable plot

Warner Brothers presents a Getty and Fromkees production, "Zeppelin," directed by Etienne Perier, produced and story by Owen Crump, screenplay by Arthur Rowe and Donald Churchill, executive producer J. Ronald Getty. Panavision, technicolor. Rated G. 100 minutes. At the Wayne Drive-In with the following cast: Michael York, Elke Sommer, Peter Carsten, Anton Diffring, Marius Goring, Andrew Keir, Rupert Davies, Alexandra Stewart.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

The zeppelin, those giant hydrogen-filled blimps which Germany used as military weapons in World War I and later as huge passenger ships until the spectacular Hindenberg fire of 1937, was about 30 times the size of Snoopy's Sopwith Camel, and could greatly exceed its altitude, a fact which made the British most unahppy in World War I.

One possible response is suggested by a new British film, "Zeppelin," with a plot so improbable that even James Bond would look askance. Michael York stars as Jeffrey Richter-Douglas, an English officer of German ancestry, whose cousin, Marius Goring, is a German Zeppelin inventor. A scheme is hatched whereby York seemingly defects and a wily German colonel, Peter Carsten, invites him on what is presumably a shakedown cruise for a new Zeppelin, along with his cousin and his cousin's wife, Elke Sommer, who has worked with her husband on the dirigible.

All of the sudden the test turns into a mission — illogically perhaps but it serves as a device to keep Miss Sommer on board for the audience's benefit — and it turns out that the mission is against Richter's old stamping grounds; he has been brought along as guide. The target is a Scottish castle to which the British archives have been removed for safekeeping during the war. The dirigible is to land and, armed with mustard gas, a lightning raid is to be made and the archives stolen to totally demoralize the British.

If you think that archives are a rather foolish target and that you share this critic's view. But, like it or not, that's the plot, and Richter and the Germans compete at fouling up their own schemes. Needless to say the Germans are more successful at incompetence and the Magna Charta is saved. And Richter's cousin obligingly dies to leave our hero a clear track with his wife.

There is, however, in this pedestrian film, one note of historical import. A cliche, so overworked that it was honorably retired in Detroit--at last appeared on the bottom half of a bill at the Broadway Capitol on Sept. 18, 1954--has been revived: "O, damn this stupid war!" Now how long has it been since you've heard that line?

New building to be constructed at Fairgrounds

A new $400,000 Michigan State Fair Commercial Exhibits Building will be constructed at the Fairgrounds this year.

E.J. "Jeff" Keirns, general manager of the Michigan State Fair, in announcing the new construction, said that the building would be completed by the fall of 1971. "With over 30,000 feet of exhibit space," Keirns commented, "the building will be ideal for trade shows, convention and local organization use on a year-around basis."

During Fair time, the building will house the general merchandising and home modernization exhibits which have been displayed in other years in the Blue & Gold buildings on the grounds.

"This is one more big step in our long-range renovation program for the Michigan State Fair buildings and grounds," Keirns noted, "already this year, we have completed a major $100,000 renovation of the dairy cattle barns, and are presently working on improving and expanding the dormitory facilities for our junior livestock exhibitors."

The 1971 Michigan State Fair extended its dates by six days this year, and runs from Aug. 27 through Sept. 12. One of the largest fairs in the nation, the Michigan State Fair is the oldest, in its 122nd year.

'A Man For All Seasons' opens tonight

"A Man for All Seasons," Robert Bolt's prize-winning drama and long-run London-New York success, opens the evening repertory schedule at the Hilberry Summer Theatre Festival tonight at 8:30.

Performed by the Hilberry's graduate repertory company, "A Man for All Seasons" will play nightly during the first week, July 14 through 17, 8:30. On July 21 it will be joined by Tom Stoppard's comedy, "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead." The two will alternate Wednesday through Saturday evenings through August 14.

"A Man for All Seasons" was first presented at the Globe Theatre, London, on July 1, 1960, with Paul Scofield in the leading role of Sir Thomas Moore. Long runs followed in both London and New York, and the play was later made into a film, also with Scofield.

The play deals with More's years as Lord Chancellor of England, and his conflict with Henry VIII over the King's difiance of the Pope and creation of the Church of England under his own spiritual leadership. More, who could not in conscience condone this act, resisted heroics and maintained his integrity even when tried for treason. The New York Mirror described the play as "a distinguished and moving drama, one with enormous emotional impact."

The Hilberry cast is headed by Howard Jensen as Sir Thomas More. Jensen has played a number of prominent roles here, including Cassius in "Julius Caesar," de Guiche in "Cyrano de Bergerac," Peter Stockmann in "An Enemy of the People" and Sparkish in "The Country Wife."

Tickets are on sale at the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office in the Hilberry Lobby, Cass at Hancock, and at J.L. Hudson Ticket Offices. Complete ticket and schedule information is available from the Hillberry Box Office at 577-2972.

cap patric–

CHICAGO ROAD HOUSE IS great any day of the year..AND on your Birthday, they're even greater! If your Birthday falls in a given week, any Sunday through Saturday, they'll celebrate it with you on Monday or Tuesday evening of that week! You and your Guest will pay one HALF the total of two dinners..plus ten cents! CHICAGO ROADHOUSE, 21400 Michigan Ave., in Dearborn (one mile west of Southfield) will treat you to the other half! YOU MUST BE 21 and you MUST produce your Drivers License as proof..and you MUST have a great meal, where you can order a two pound Porterhouse aged to perfection..or a 24 oz. New York Strip Steak! To the Cub Scout we met in the Foyer there, last Wednesday afternoon, who told us how to have four hands (''..double your fists''), we say Thank You Mark Leoni..a guy NEEDS four hands to handle that Birthday Special! And to anyone who expects to have another birthday: keep this address! And do like us, go there in the meantime and practice. Charming Host Jack Valian is waiting to greet you!

THERE WAS A TIME I could ask a guy why he was so happy..and he'd come back with "What are you..a Journalist..or a Detective?" I've been both..but never got an answer as easily as I do when I ask the same question at THE GOLDEN COIN, at 1870 S. Wayne Rd., in Westland. Here's a spot that's predicated on plain, ol' fashioned happiness. It's the fulfillmeft of a lifelong dream for Frank and Lu..it's "that nice place" you always wish would happen in your neighborhood..it's a spot we can say anything and everything good about, and it's ALL true. There's NO WAY a guy can stay blue at The Coin. Except, now, I'm short one question per interview. Becuz when I see someone t-h-e-r-e, I know that's what makes him happy! It was our privilege to meet Former Beauty Queen, Miss Susanne Strauss, now a local Teacher, at The Golden Coin t'other day. Sue told of her very 1st session; how she asked "Can you tell me how to find Mangoes?" Spake a youngster wise beyond his years, "Look wherever Woman goes". Had that been in Westland, the kid woulda sed "The Golden Coin", right? That's SURE where Cap goes...

ON JUST SUCHA NIGHT as this..you leave the whole world behind and head for the lake! The north side of Walled Lake is now famous for THE SQUIRE'S TABLE (1403 S. Commerce Rd.)..and The Squires Table is truly a festive board! It takes a phone call (624-6660) to reserve a spot for Fridays and Saturdays when Knights and their Ladeez stand in line to hear recording artist, Ronnie Bell..but there's always room for a frienda Cap's, somehow. Try it tonight..for a special mid-week relaxer. The closer you get to the water..the cooler it gets..and the happier she feels! Inside, the food is the crowning touch for that special evening! Lobster Newburg, sauteed in butter and sherry..simmered in the Squire's Newburg Sauce..served on a Patty Shell with Parsley Rice ..Le Coq Au Vin, in Wine Sauce, with Albufera..Gigantic Gulfstream Shrimp. You can ride around the lake after dinner or walk down to the shore and stargaze. Didn't you "used to" do special things like that onceinawhile?? That's what The Squire's Table is all about.

AN INTIMATE NEW LOUNGE.. in an old favorite place we know, gives us even more reason to stop frequently at THE MELODY LANE MOTEL, 9301 S. Telegraph, in Taylor. We've enjoyed lunch in their pleasant Dining Room many times..and bragged, with good reason, about the Mahler & Osti Families Continental flair for pleasing their Guests. N-O-W, the new Lounge, which is open from 10 ayem to 2 p.m., is the 'frosting on the cake!' You may dine in the Lounge, if you wish..or you might come to enjoy Eileen Moore at the organ, from 7:30 on, Thursday thru Saturday. OR, you can lose yourself in the round-the-world Airline Theme of the new decor..just sitting quietly..sipping slowly..mellowing pleasurably. While the Grand Opening is officially set for Friday, this Writer respectfully urges you to enjoy a preview, even today, if you can manage it! Or Tomorrow, when Eileen does her magic at the keyboard..or just as soon as you can.. if you appreciate soft, quiet elegance! It's a nice, nice place to relax!

THIS'S THE STORY we call a "Clip 'n Paster".. because that's what you do with it. Cut out and paste in appropriate place: on his briefcase..on his windshield..on his forehead, if you wanna! The clip'n paster goes: DEAR --- (Sir, Father, Honey, Pops, etc.): TODAY is my UN-Birthday! I --- (type your letters, wash your socks, change your tires, etc.) faithfully, and ask for little in exchange. But I know when you remember all this, you'll repay me in a BIG way, right?? You'll take me to VARGO'S, at 30325 McNichols (it's between Merriman and Middlebelt, Honey). It'll be dressup, because there's "proper" attire after 6 p.m. And it'll be wonderful, because there's Dinner and Dancing..and a marvelous Chef..and an atmosphere of the velvet world we haven't seen since color musicals! I know you don't always remember my Birthday..but how can you forget anything as important as TODAY..my Un-Birthday?? Or anyplace as wonderful as VARGO'S?? Or any girl clever enuff to have this important message sealed in plastic and slipped into your souffle? And an evening together at VARGO'S..and an UN-Birthday..both make you feel so-oo happy...

NEW TODAY AT THE STUDIO LOUNGE, 6921 N. WAYNE RD. (Westland): JOHNNY BAKER & THE NEW AMERICANS!! The group has a devoted following..and we think they'll show you why tonight! Chef George Craig "Chef-ed" for this Writer in days gone by..and as Chef he gets our highest reccomendation. Owners Sam Halim (who is a Master Photographer) and Mike Hassani (a former Teacher) have put their heads together to bring you something different in the way of Entertainment and other unusuals. ONE being Sam's farout 25 oz. Banana Special that is the end of all imagination when it comes to delicious libation! Another being the Photographs which have brought Sam the respect of Artisans everywhere. A-N-D the roads are ready and waiting for those of you who might've wondered how to get in during the past couple weeks. SO: all signals are go for The Studio Lounge, starting right now! There's a Businessmen's Luncheon (very biznesslike), and a couple Ladies Nites, Wednesday & Thursday (very Ladylike) and seven Fun Nights a week (VERY Funlike!!!) See you there!

THERE'S AN OLD STORY about the weather in London that reminds me of Vladimir Sarcovich's fabulous new quarters. "How did you find the weather in London?" a returning Traveler was asked. "I didn't have to "find" it", answered the Lady. "It bumped into me at every corner." Vladi has done this with his new establishment. There is a magnificient splendor which is breathtakingly beautiful at every turn. Nor does this stop with appearances. Service bespeaking many, many years of Catering experience is of the highest caliber at Vladimir's. Will you entertain four dozen people..or four hundred? Each and every one will receive the same perfect service. Do you want Ethnic Food..Symphonic Music.. Rock..unusual Liquors..Floral Arrangements made exclusively for you? Whatever is necessary to your total satisfaction, is the ENTIRE goal of Vladimir's Catering! Call Vladimir, at 477-8050. He'll invite you to VLADIMIR'S 28125 Grand River, in Farmington and , also like the weather in London, it's beauty will take your breath away!

Summer theater now in progress

The Romulus Summer Theater, which has been in the planning stages for more than a year, is now being offered through the Romulus Recreation Commission in cooperation with Romulus Community Schools, David Ferdon, summer theater director, reported Monday.

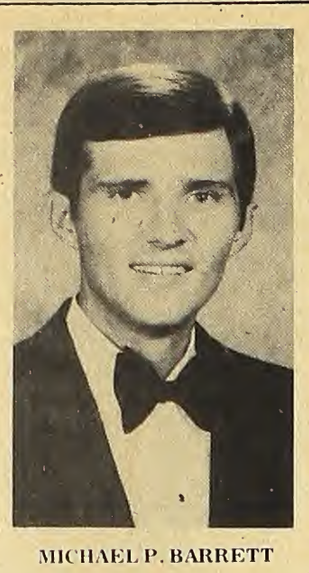
The initial tryouts for adults and teens participating in the summer amateur program began July 6.

Additional tryouts will be held from 6:30 to 9 p.m. in the Romulus High School Auditorium. Monday through Thursday until performance dates of Aug. 6 and 7.

Slated for production is a full length comedy, "Paddle your Own Canoe," authored by William F. Davidson with Robert Heimerl.

The story relates the misadventures of f newlyweds in an isolated fire station innorthern Minnesota. As isolated as northern Minnesota may be, it soon succumbs to the influences of Madison Avenue, U.S.A. represented by mother-in-law.

Tryouts, practices and performances to be held in the high school auditorium will provide a full experience in theater, Ferdon said.



MICHAEL P. BARRETT

Belleville man granted assistanceship

Michael Paul Vernon Barrett of Belleville has been granted a graduate assistantship in Greek at Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C., Dr. Bob Jones, III, president announced.

Barrett will pursue the master of arts degree in Greek.

A 1967 graduate of Belleville High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Barrett, 7829 Beck Rd. He received the bachelor of arts degree in Bible from Bob Jones University last June.

While a student at BJU, Barrett served as president of Excalibur Literary Society.

Widow asks flag return

An earnest plea for the return of an American flag stolen from the front porch at 548 E. Huron River Dr. while being displayed during the Fourth of July observance has been made by Mrs. Anna Salinger of the flag.

Mrs. Salinger, a widow, reported that the flag draped the coffin of her late husband, Edward, 49, who died suddenly a year ago.

He served in World War II. The flag was presented by the VFW at the time of his funeral.

Mrs. Salinger reported that small footprints leading to the flag pole were found at the time of the flag's disappearance.

Reading Club's sea monster has a growing tail

There is a strange creature lurking in the children's section of the new Romulus Library, located at 11121 S. Wayne Rd. near Goddard Rd. The Summer Reading Club's sea monster is beginning to form. His tail is made of colored paper circles which represent books read by reading club members. The more books they read, the longer the tail grows.

At the first Pre-School Story Hour last Wednesday, the children heard several stories told by Miss Diane Covert, the librarian, and also played some finger games. Registration for both the Story Hour and the Summer Reading Cub is still open.

Romulus Library patrons have been noticing a large number of new books of the shelves of the new library.

About 4,0000 books were added to the existing collection of 12,000 books moved from the old building. These new books had been in storage for several months since there was no room for them in the old library, a building on Goddard Rd.

The library now has more to offer than books, pamphlets and magazines. The new record collection offers a wide variety, including children's story records, operas, and some seasonal music. Records can be checked out for one week.

Soon there will also be other audio-visual materials and equipment available for use in the library, Miss Covert reported.

Member night

The Belleville Jaycees are holding a membership night at 8 p.m. July 17.

The membership meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Horton of Belleville.

Musical Youth are in Holland

The touring band and chorus of Musical Youth International, a group of 100 talented musicians including Miss Lynn Orr of 45415 Harmony Lane, Belleville, received a standing ovation after their June concert at the Centennial Hall auditorium. London, Ontario.

The Musical Youth International band and chorus is presently on a European concert and song tour.

While performing in Kapelle, Holland, a sister city to Zeeland, Michigan, under the People-to-People Sister Cities Program, the youth are staying with families in private homes.

The MYI has sung and played in town halls and given three sacred concerts in twelfth century cathedrals.

They will be continuing their trip to Germany and Denmark before returning to Toronto, Canada on July and then home.

Economic advisor

Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky has appointed a five-member council of economic advisors to collect and interpret fiscal data. It is similar to the federal version.

Belleville youngsters on top CAP drill team

Three Belleville girls were among nine recently named the female Civil Air Patrol Cadet drill champions for the state of Michigan. The other girls are from Grosse Ile, Westland, Ann Arbor, Taylor and Flat Rock.

All are members of the female drill team from the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, CAP, which captured the title in competition for the third straight year.

Members of the team from Belleville included Cadet First Class Paula M. Jones, 17, of 43774 Crowley; Paula's sister, Cadet Airman Anita L. Jones, 15; and Cadet Airman Mary F. Kosin, 16, of 14167 Elwell Rd.

The title was earned in a four hour competition held in Lansing on the 26th of June. All three girls have been members of Civil Air Patrol for less than a year.

In the final eliminations at Lansing, the Wayne-Romulus team placed ahead of female drill teams representing CAP units in Lansing and southern Macomb county.

Judging was based on military bearing and an individual inspection of the uniform as well as actual performance of military drill. As CAP Cadets, the girls wear the same uniform as members of the Woman's Air Force, with distinctive CAP insignia added. Military drill follows the same used in the United States Air Force.

Judges included USAF Reserve officers and staff officers from Michigan Wing headquarters of the Civil Air Patrol. The first place trophy was presented to Cadet Lieutenant Colonel JoAnn Brazer of Ann Arbor, who accepted on behalf of the entire team, by Michigan Wing CAP Commander Colonel Charles Klann.

Other members of the winning team included Cadet Major Carol Chesney and Cadet Airman Kathi Chesney of Flat Rock; Cadet Sergeant Shirley Cantrell of Taylor; Cadet Airman Helen Heinrich of Westland; and Cadet Airman Dona M. Hutchinson of Grosse Ile.

Miss Cantrell was also a member of the 1969 championship team, and she and Carol Chesney and Kathi Chesney were members of the 1970 first place team.

All three girls, as well as many other members of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, will be marching in the Four-H Fair Opening Parade in Belleville in August.

At the Fair, the CAP unit will operate an information display on the CAP Cadet Program. Participation in their championship drill team is only one of the many activities offered to teen-agers, boys and girls, between the ages of 13 and 17 by the Wayne-Romulus CAP unit.

AMONG THE STATE CHAMPIONS - Three Belleville girls are members of the girls drill team of the Wayne-Romulus Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) that was recently named the CAP cadet drill team of the State of Michigan. they are (from left) Cadet Airman Mary F. Kosin, 16, of 14167 Elwell Rd.; Cadet Airman Anita Jones, 15, of 43774 Crowley; and her sister, Cadet First Class Paula M. Jones, 17.

"We have had excellent support and interest from the Romulus leadership." he said.

Building is up in Van Buren

Building in Van Buren Township was up sharply in June, Darryl Robson, chief building inspector announced Monday.

Building permits issued during June totaled 45, calling for an estimated construction cost of $831,425. This compares with 34 permits and construction cost of $396,367 in May.

June residential construction was valued at $455,114 as against $360,957 in May. There were 40 residential building permits issued including 11 for one family residences. In May, 34 residential building permits were issued by the building department.

Of the June total, $310,698 was for commercial construction as against $8,832 in May. The total fees collected by the township amounted to $3,653 in June compared to $3,672.50.

During June the electrical department issued 28 permits and collected $88.50 in fees. The heating department issued 17 permits and collected $168 in fees.

Romulus Library thanks volunteers

To the editor:

The Romulus Library staff wishes to publicly thank the volunteers who helped prepare the new library for its opening on June 28.

Most of the volunteers were members of the Romulus Literary Club and their children. They spent many hours sorting cards and shelving books.

The members who participated were: Shirley Burcroff, Marion Burcroff, Jean Savage, Inez Tobacco, Mary Oakley, Daisie Clark and Wilma Nicholas.

Their sons and daughters who helped were: Neil, Fred and Susan LeRoy, Jimmy Burcroff, Chris, Keith and Hal Savage, Nancy Hopson, Lori and Connie Block, Lisa Oakley and Laurie Nichols.

Others were Andy Butler, Roberta Craig, Mr. and Mrs. George Covert and Vincent Tanner. Volunteers from Girl Scout Troop 345 were Colette, Aeldell and Yvette Austin.

UN Youth Pilgrimage stops in Belleville

To the editor:

So much publicity is given to the so-called militant revolutionaries and other controversial groups of young people who seemingly are dedicated to communistic ideas and demonstrations of overthrowing our present form of government. Fortunately they are really only a very small minority of our young people.

It is really a pleasure to give some space in our Belleville Enterprise to some youngsters from California, New Mexico and Arizona — 13 boys and 20 girls — who with their bus driver, tour director and chaperon were members of tour No. 9 United Nations Youth Pilgrimage.

This group is but one of many groups who travel the length and breadth of this country of ours. They are sponsored by the Oddfellow Order I.O.O.F. and the Rebekahs all over the USA and Canada.

These youngsters do not have to be related to any member of the Oddfellows in order to be eligible to join these tours. The only requisite is that they be of good moral character and also good students. Their expenses are paid for by the Oddfellows and they are fed along the routes of their tours by the Rebekah Lodges.

The chartered bus (Continental Trailways) wasmet Monday at I-94 and Belleville Road by Mr. Albert Mida and he directed them to the Oddfellow Hall. The tables at the hall were decorated with arrangements of cut flowers. A lunch of sloppy joes, potato chips, relishes, cold drinks, cake and ice cream was served by the Astral Rebekah Lodge.

And to show their appreciation all of the youngsters wrote thank-you notes, thanking the ladies very profusely for the food which "hit the spot."

They sang four lovely numbers, one of which was "This Is My Country".

The tour which started June 22 in Almeda, Calif., had taken them through many Southern states and also to New York City where they visited the United Nations and met many of the delegates. They were also in Washington and Philadelphia and came to Belleville from Simcoe, Ontario.

From Belleville, they were leaving to go to Buchanan, Mich., which is close to Benton Harbor, where they were to have dinner and stay for the night. By the time they return to California they will have traveled 7,000 miles.

A wonderful experience for a group of fortunate and really nice youngsters who are all 16 to 18 years of age.

If the future of our country is in the hands of such as these it will be indeed in good hands.

A man is innocent until proven guilty

To the editor:

We were very much surprised that you permitted the article "Alford faces prison" June 9 edition—to be printed in the Belleville Enterprise.

We had always assumed under the American system, a person is innocent until proven guilty.

Shame on you Mr. Cantin. Don't you have anything better to write about than to try to damage the reputation of a (in your own words) "one of Belleville's well known physicians and member of a prominent Belleville family."

I'm sure you well know who is behind all this. Why didn't you check the facts, before writing as you did?

I'm sure Dr. Alford is innocent and at the trial the truth will "out" unless he is "railroaded" by the people who are behind this.

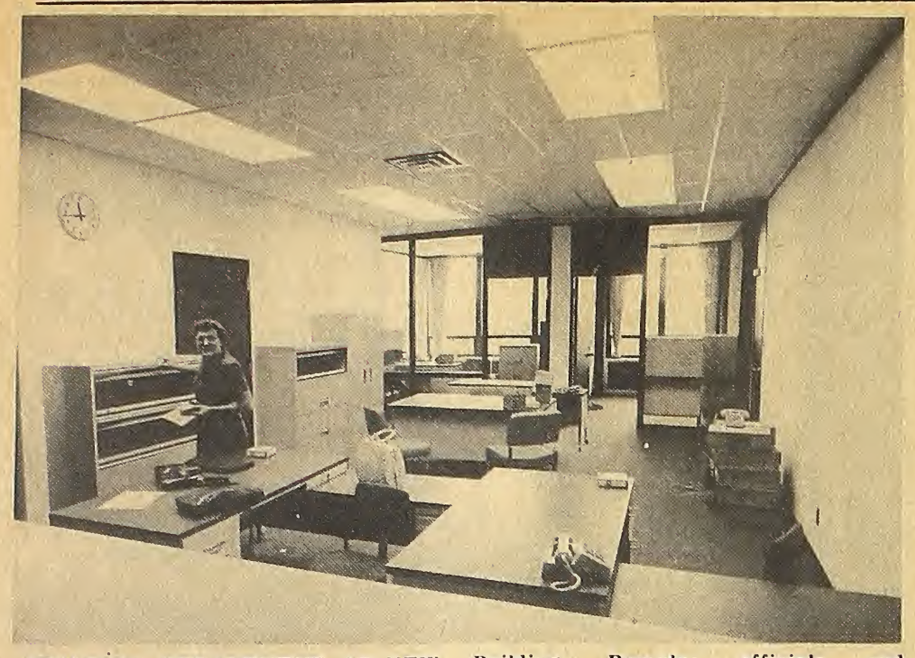
New city now in new offices



BUIEDING DEPARTMENT AT NEW CITY HALL— Miss Elvera Fischer, head of the water and sewer billing division, inspects the new department offices at the Municipal Building. Romulus officials and administrative offices moved into the new structure last Friday and Saturday.

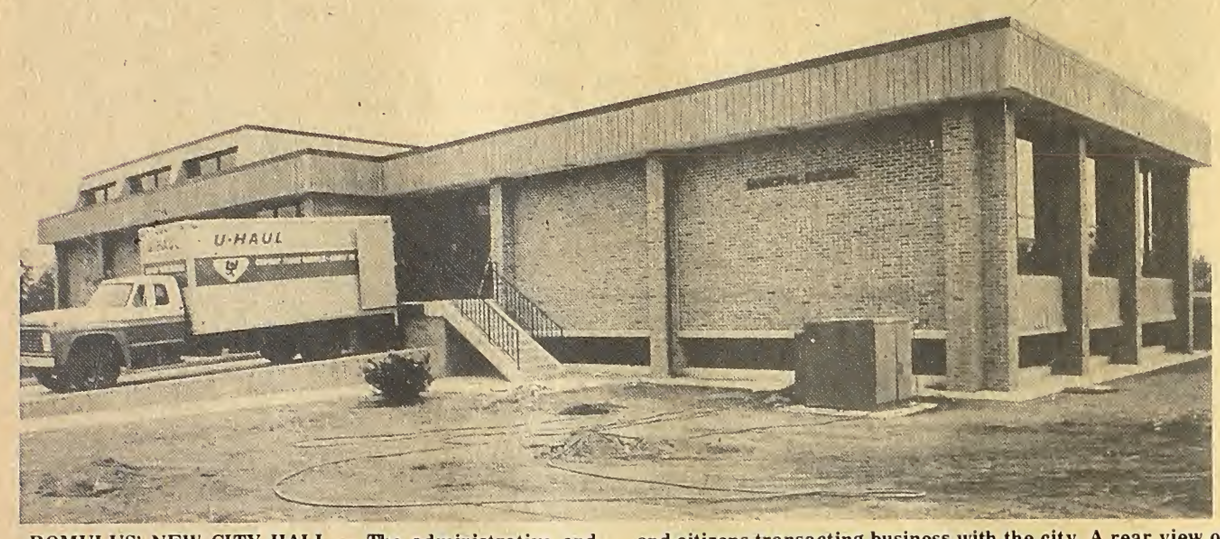
The City of Romulus has moved its administrative and legislative offices into its new, modern and air-conditioned Municipal Building last Friday and Saturday.

The office equipment and materials were moved by city officials, employees and citizens from the old city hall, located at Sterling and Goddard Rd. to 11111 S. Wayne Rd. near Goddard Rd. at the east section of the city.

The Romulus Roman presents on this page a pictorial review of moving operations and some of the spacious offices that are in the new facility.

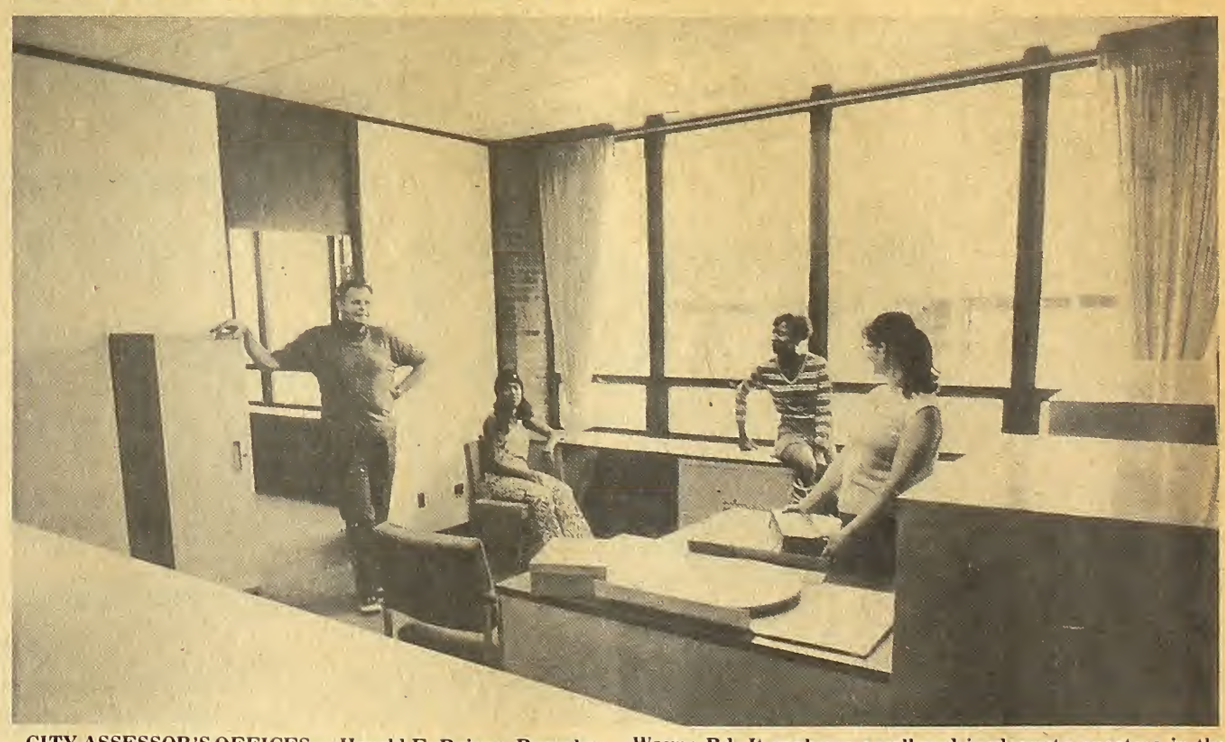
The new one-story structure replacessmall and inadequate quarters that were housed in a former grange hall and which has been used both by the city and the old township governments for the past 20 years.

MOVING INTO NEW CITY HALL — City Assessor Harold E. Reiner (center) with a crew of assistants moving into Romulus' new Municipal Building. City employes and officials participated in the two-day (Friday and Saturday) packing and moving operations from the old city hall, Sterling St. and Goddard Rd. to 11111 S. Wayne Rd. just east of Goddard Rd. The telephone number 941-0666 remains the same.

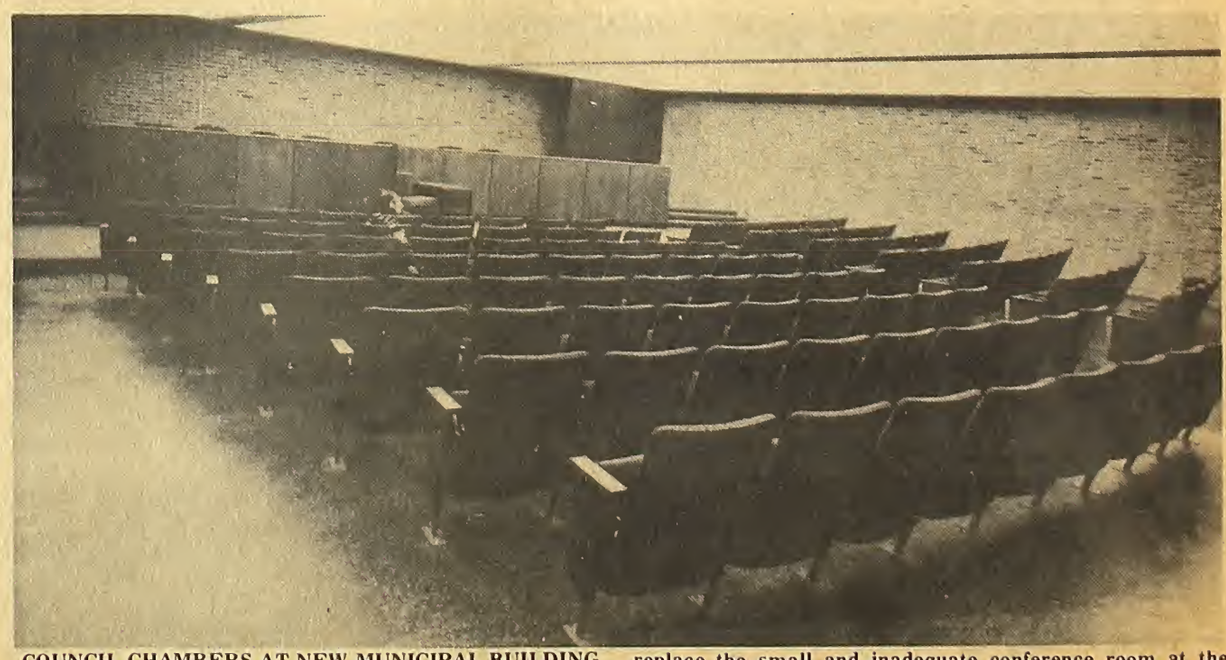


ROMULUS' NEW CITY HALL — The administrative and legislative offices of the City of Romulus have moved into the community's new Municipal Building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd. near Goddard Rd. The city hall is air-conditioned and has all the modern conveniences for the comfort and welfare of employes and citizens transacting business with the city. A rear view of the building above was taken during moving operations. It is part of a four-building complex to be built on a 16-acre parcel of city-owned land on the southeast corner of Wayne and Goddard Rds.

THE MAYOR'S OFFICE — Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and future mayors of the City of Romulus will be occupying the above office in the city's new Municipal Building. The air-conditioned office, carpeted and equipped with all new furniture, and related conference rooms overlook the new Romulus Library. Romulus administrative offices moved into the new structure last Friday and Saturday.



CITY ASSESSOR'S OFFICES— Harold E. Reiner, Romulus assessor and tax consultant took time out from moving operations to inspect his quarters in the new city hall, 11111 S. Wayne Rd. It replaces small and inadequate quarters in the former township building, located at Sterling and Goddard Rd.



COUNCIL CHAMBERS AT NEW MUNICIPAL BUILDING — A new air-conditioned council chambers with a seating capacity of 144, will be the scene of future city council sessions. Located on the first floor of Romulus' new and modern Municipal Building, located at 11111 S. Wayne Rd., it will replace the small and inadequate conference room at the Waterboard Building, 36515 Bibbins St. The former quarters used by the council at the old city hall have been converted into offices and the council has been using the Waterboard Building quarters pending completion of the new city hall.

Carlson blasts Bly's 'facts' in letter

To the editor:

Facts, facts, who has the facts? A person who presents "facts" in public print infers at least that such "facts" are truthful. Right? Right!

So, suppose two people, let's call them Mr. Carlson and Mr. Bly, print "facts" in the local paper.

Now, whose "facts" might you choose to believe - Mr. Bly, who less than a year ago under threat of a lawsuit, publicly printed a retraction of his previously published "facts"? The retraction was signed "The Bly Slate Campaign Committee" and said in part "these statements (facts) have been found to be inaccurate and are hereby retracted"; or, might you rather have confidence in the facts of Mr. Carlson who has never had a single published fact questioned as to its truthfulness.

1 — my 1968 analysis of the 1968-69 school year year budget proposal, 2 — stated that only our state legislators can change the tax structure of mobile home parks, and 3 — the new statewide secondary school tests cannot be directly correlated with 1963 data.

Please note: if presenting facts such as these constitutes an attack on someone, then you, Rod, and Mr. Webster have a very deep hangup on the definition of the word "attack".

Now, if you actually want to attack someone in print, you do just as Rod did in last week's paper. You ignore what your victim has previously said and just accuse him of any wild action that comes to mind. Then, regardless of how often you are corrected by your victim, you just keep dreaming up new "facts". A typical "attack" might go like this:

Rod - Isn't it a fact, Don, that you beat your wife?

Don - No, my wife is a judo expert and would probably turn me inside out.

Rod - Isn't it a fact that you beat your dog?

Don - No, I don't own a dog.

Ron - Well, then isn't it a fact that you beat your cat?

Don - Look, the only animal I have in the house is my daughter's hamster.

Rod - A-ha, isn't if a fact that you beat your hamster?

Don - No, my hamster wighs 426 pounds. When he barks, I listen.

So you just go on and on ad infinitum.

P.S. — I do beat my rugs which is really dirty work.

In any event, true to form, Mr. Bly carefully avoids saying that any of my facts are incorrect. Rather, he proposes a new set of his own brand of "facts". Let's review his "facts" as they relate to me.

Bly "fact": "Isn't it a fact, Don, that you yourself stated that the laws of the State of Michigan demand that monies appropriated for construction may not be used for other purposes, and that obviously our school board was in violation of that law."

Carlson truth: For one thing I do not pretend to be a lawyer and hence have never made it a practice to go around trying to act like one. I did not in 1968, nor have I since, ever seen in print such a law as you refer to. This does not mean that such a law does or doesn't exist. I am not ashamed to admit that I don't have the foggiest idea as to the actual existence of such a law. As I said, 'I'm no lawyer.

Bly "fact": "Didn't you also state that because of this violation and also because of, in your opinion, the school board's mismangement of funds, you would not recommend the endorsement of that proposed five-mill increase in school taxes?"

Carlson truth: As I said, I'm no lawyer and consequently could hardly render a legal opinion on a purported law I have never seen in print. Secondly, as I clearly stated in my letter of June 23 my financial analysis was done in 1968 (summer) on the proposed 1968-69. Now really, how could I accuse the school board of mismanagement of funds for a school year that hadn't even started yet? I also clearly stated that I never questioned the need for added funds, only the amount.

Bly "fact" "Isn't if a fact, Mr. Carlson, that even after the people of our township, in a referendum vote, vetoed that project, you and your concerned cronies on the board of directors of the Civil Association voted to endorse that project?"

Carlson truth: The referendum vote to which you refer overturned the zoning ordinance which would have allowed Mr. Volk to build 2,000 apartments. Subsequent to this vote, Mr. Volk appeared before the board of the Civil Association and presented several alternate plans, all of which included lesser numbers of apartments.

In addition, Mr. Volk requested that board members visit his apartments in Taylor in order that the quality of his projects could be verified. Although I didn't make ths trip myself, several of my "concerned cronies" did, including Chairman Jim Borst and Mrs. Julia Sawmiller. Their report to the board was a verification that Mr. Volk's Taylor apartments were a quality project.

Based on three factors then, the board held a public meeting to which all petition signers were specifically invited. At this meeting it was explained that:

1 - Mr. Volk had built quality projects in the past.

2 - Mr. Volk agreed to reduce the number of apartments by 20 per cent.

And 3. The "deck" is clearly stacked against the township voters because after all the work of forcing a referendum vote, Mr. Volk had only to wait a few days and submit another rezonig request. This takes very little effort on his part and every indication was that the township board would keep on approving the rezoning.

Hence, it appeared that sooner or later we would go down the drain which would then allow Mr. Vok to go back to his 2,000 apartment concept. This data having been presented in the public meeting, allowed any interested citizen an opportunity to suggest some course of action other than accepting Mr. Volk's proposal.

For someone who supposedly was as interested as you, Mr. Bly, why didn't you raise some objection when it could have been considered, rather than waiting three years and then "discovering new facts"?

Bly "fact": "If your reasoning was correct in 1968, and you were certain you were correct, then why do we need more tax dollars now?"

Carlson truth: First of all, as I stated in my letter, several factors have entered the picture all of which affect costs. Rather than repeat this, Rod, please just read my June 23 letter. I would like to point out, however, that the answer to your question is as simple as this - in 1968 you fed your family for $32 a week, so why should you need to spend anymore today? If you don't know, just ask any housewife.

Bly "fact": "You now tell us, Mr. Carlson, that the Civic Association endorsed the last proposed three-mill increase, etc., etc."

Carlson truth: The results of the board vote was first placed in the paper at the direction of the association chairman. It was an open vote, what's to argue about?

Bly "fact": "The facts are that in 1968 the Civic Association had over 200 members but by the careful maneuvering of Mr. Carlson and his pals, they have successfully handcuffed that organization's will to take a stand on any issue."

Carlson truth: First of all, I wasn't even a board member during 1970-71, so for the last year I wasn't in a position to "maneuver" anyone. Secondly, I defy you to produce a single board member who will admit with documentation, that they were "maneuvered" by me.

Bly "fact": The fact is that the decision to endorse the three-mill increase in school taxes was made by a grand total of seven members, led by Mr. Carlson."

Carlson truth: Wrong as usual, Rod. The vote was 9 for 3 against.

Bly "fact": "As I stated earlier, Mr. Carlson will attack any group of citizens who try to do a public service for our community. He has obviously been bought paid for, signed, sealed and delivered to perform that function."

Carlson truth: I have always been willing to stand behind anything I ever put in a public letter. Now it's your turn, Rod. With regard to your above stated "fact", either publish who bought me off, how much I got and when this took place or be man enough to admit that your statement is just another typical Bly "fact"

In conclusion, I feel that anyone who writes letters to the editor, questioning other township residents, deserves an answer. So Rod. this letter is your answer.

Consequently, I have no intention of correcting anymore of your absurd "facts" because you can obviously dream up "facts" much faster than I can research truthful answers. So, if you like, rave on - I, plus the many township voters who so thoroughly repudiated you in the last election, understand your problem.

Reference - in the last township election, Mr. Bly got the lowest vote count of any of the 14 candidates on the ballot.

New Jersey graduation takes Tononis East

THE JOHN TONONIS of Martinsville Road were in Flemington, New Jersey recently to attend the graduation of their granddaughter, Fae Tononi, from Hunterdon High School. The daughter of former Bellevillites, the Calvin Tononis, Fae was presented the Distributive Education Memorial Award along with a $100 savings bond.

Also attending the commencement exercises was Fae's good friend and former Belleville classmate, Margaret Ann Bole, who flew in for the special occasion. Fae was here in June to see Margaret receive her diploma with the BHS class of '71 at Bowen Field House.

Before the senior Tononis returned home from their three week vacation they spent some time touring the Pennsylvania Dutch and Amish Country in Lancaster County.

Pre-nuptial parties keep Ann busy

ANN HOPE, who has set an August 28 date for her marriage to Floyd Gillespie, was the honored guest at two recent bridal showers. The first, held in East Lansing, was given by Ann's roommate at Michigan State, Patti Krystan. Tagging the event 'personal', she entertained some 15 guests—all State co-eds or graduate students.

Then this past Sunday there was a miscellaneous shower hosted by Mrs. William Englebert at her home in Ypsilanti. Friends and relatives of the propsective bridegroom, about 35 in all, as well as Ann's mother, Mrs. Marshall Hope, attended the afternoon party.

A cake made and decorated in the shape of an umbrella served as the focal point at the pink and white appointed buffet table. Following a salad and dessert luncheon, the bride-to-be unwrapped her prettily-packaged gifts.

The North Prospect Baptist Church in Ypsilanti has been reserved for next month's wedding. In the meantime Ann a senior is busy with classes which will lead to her degree in education. She is also holding down a part-time job at an East Lansing dress shop.

Former student returns for visit

BACK IN THE United States after an absence of four years and this time with her husband-to-be, is Tyti Kanerva of Helsinki, Finland She and Kai Kangasniemi arrived July 5 and are the houseguests of her former American family, John and Marge Roberts, their daughter and son-in-law, Vicki and Mike Barnett, and their little daughter, Tytti Liisa, who was named for Miss Kanerva. Tytti was here in 1966-67 as an exchange student under the auspices of Youth for Understanding and completed her senior year at Belleville High along with her American sister, Vicki Vinson Barnett.

The Robertses and Barnetts have planned a full schedule for the Scandinavian couple now that they've all had a week in which to catch up on each other. Thus far they've been to Greenfield Village and have dined roadhouse fashion at New Boston's Orchard Grove and Chinese style at Lim's in Dearborn. Kai, who tried water skiing for the first time last week, is already to the slalom stage while Tytti is back up on skis for the first time since she left...the water sport not being native to Finland.

Until their departure July 28, the pair will be acquainted with as much of Michigan as possible with a trip northward to the Grand Traverse Bay area and dinner and shopping in Frankenmuth on the intinerary.

And along with all the friends who'll be stopping by to see our honorary Belleville citizen there'll be Marge's folks, the Bert Smiths, who are coming from Athens, Alabama and John's family, Mrs. A.B. Roberts and the Earl Blewitts, who are planning a visit from Cleveland.

Here 'n there... around the town

RECENT HOLIDAY guests of the Roger Allyns of Belleville Road were her sister and brother-in-law, Jayne and Gerry McCormack and their daughter, Sheila, and her fiance, Brad Harrison, all of Bay City . . .OUT-OF-STATE visitors during the past week at the Bert Smith's Edison Lake Road home were his cousins, Bud and Gerry Smith an sons, Ronnie and Larry, from Fort Stanton, New Mexico, and from White Plains, New York, Bea Kissel and her two teen-agers, Judy and John, as well as Judy's friend, Robin Souter.

Theatre has openings

Anyone who missed try-outs for the Romulus Summer Theatre production of "Paddle Your Own Canoe", a comedy by William F. Davidson and Robert Heimerl, still has a chance for a part, said David Ferdon, director.

Although most of the leading roles have been assigned, Ferdon said, there are some smaller parts open and plenty of jobs for understudies and those who would like to work on props and stage effects.

"Anyone with a few minutes or hours to spare is welcome to come in and help out or just visit," said Ferdon. The group meets each Monday through Thursday evening at the Romulus Senior High School stage entrance off Wayne Rd., between 6:30 and 9 p.m.

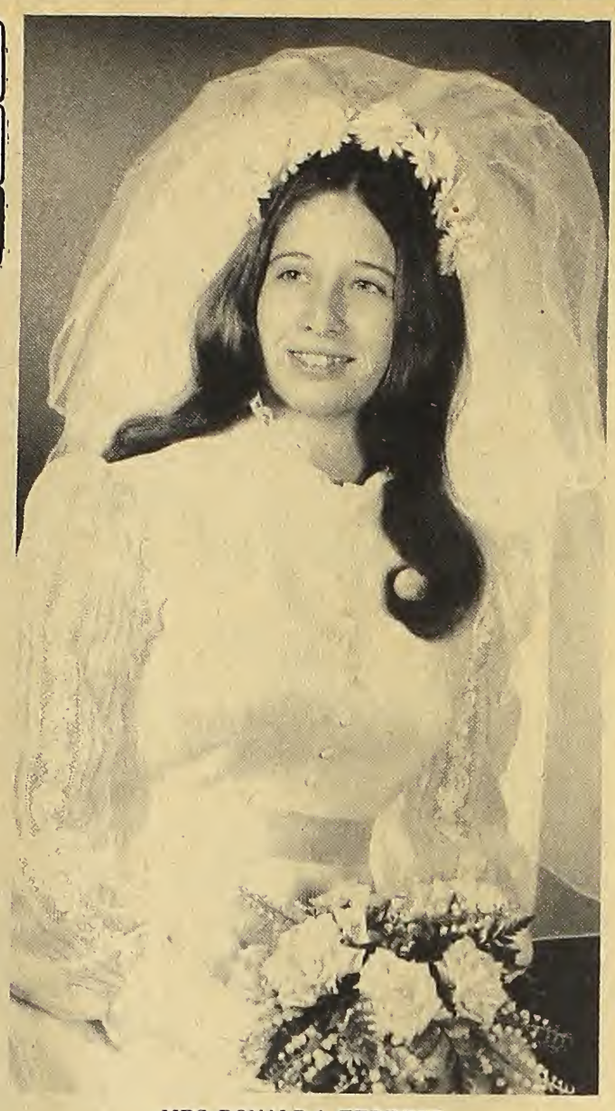
The summer theatre is offered for the first time this year and is supported by the Romulus Recreation Commission in cooperation with the Romulus Community Schools.

Wood structures do well in quake

Wood structures performed remarkably well during the February 9 earthquake in Southern California, the director of seismographic stations, University of California, Berkeley, reports.

"It was very heartening to know that substantially built wood frame houses will go through quite severe ground shaking and ground displacing without collapsing," Dr. Bruce Bolt, the director, commented.

To lessen quake damage, Dr. Bolt advises: "Plan to have reinforced concrete foundations and bolt the wooden frame of the house to the foundation."



MRS. DONALD A. FERRETT

Married in New Jersey

Canada, New England are honeymoon sites

A honeymoon in Montreal and New England followed the June 29 marriage of Lisa Kalette of Mahwah, New Jersey and Donald Allen Ferrett of Charleston, South Carolina.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denny Carnahan Kalette of 100 Deerhaven Road, Mahwah, New Jersey, Lisa became Mrs. Ferrett in a two o'clock ceremony at St. Luke's Chapel in Ringwood State Park, New Jersey. The Rev. Bernard C. Newman presided at the nuptial rite.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jack Ferrett of 122 South Street, Belleville.

ESCORTED TO the altar by her father, the bride appeared in a creation of white lace demurely fashioned with a high neckline with self buttons down to the high-rise waistline which was encircled with a satin sash. Other styling details included bishop sleeves cuffed at the wrist and a toe-touching skirt cut in the A-line mode.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a garland of white flowers and she held a nosegay of summer flowers.

As her sister's maid of honor, Kristina Kalette donned a lilac frock featuring an empire bodice designed with a high neckline and bishop sleeves accented with lace trim. She wore a garland of flowers in her hair and carried a basket of fresh summer flowers.

Forming the bridal coterie in gowns of aquamarine were Cathy Ferrett of Belleville, the bridegroom's sister; Laurie Beth Connell of Mahwah, New Jersey; Ellen Heising of Montclair, New Jersey; and Virginia Glazier of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

THE BRIDEGROOM asked Stephen L. Robar of Ann Arbor to serve as best man. Others on the esquire side were Glenn Connell and the bride's brother, Michael Kalette, both of Mahwah.

The new Mrs. Ferrett graduated from Mahwah High School in 1970 and completed her freshman year at Middlebury College in Vermont. Now that she and her husband are living in Charleston, South Carolina, she plans to attend the College of Charleston in the fall.

The bridegroom graduated from Belleville High School in 1966, attended the University of Michigan in 1967 and later graduated from the Naval Academy Preparatory School. He is currently serving on board the USS Orion at Charleston.

MISS MEMERING

Memerings announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Memering of 31 Clarence Street, Belleville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Thomas Keon of Inkster.

A 1971 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss Memering is employed at Household Finance Corporation in Gault Village, Ypsilanti. She began work there as part of the high school Co-op program.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Keon of 29093 Emerson, Inkster, graduated from Belleville High School in 1970 and later attended Washtenaw Community College. He is currently employed as assistant manager at Foodville Super Market, Carleton. He, too began work as a Co-op student.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Rainbow News Notes

By DEBBY GREEN

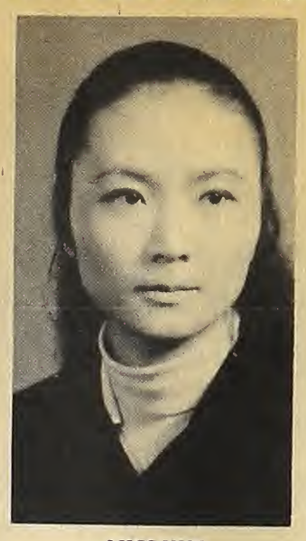
The Belleville Order of Rainbow for Girls held a party honoring their graduating seniors at the home of Reia Clark, junior past Worthy Advisor. The party was sponsored by the Advisory Board of the assembly and it was a big success.

The seniors who are active members of Rainbow are Linda Clayton, Ruth McAtee, Patti Whichello, and Ladalhia Horne, who is our present Worthy Advisor.

On June 21 the Belleville Assembly initiated a new member, Yetta Howard. She is 17, attends Belleville High School, and will be a senior in September. One of her hobbies is painting and she does a beautiful job!

The newly-appointed Grand Representative, Debby Green, along with Mrs. Wanda Adams, Mrs. Anita Nicholson, and Debby and Carolyn Nicholson, attended the First Grand Reception at Wyandotte Assembly on June 26. Debby, who is Grand Representative of Michigan to Hawaii, will be traveling to various assemblies around Michigan during the year representing her own assembly and the Grand Assembly.

The first summer activity for the Belleville Assembly was a roller skating party at Sumpter Roller Rink on June 30. There were many Rainbow girls and their families and friends there. Everyone had a wonderful time and we hope to have another one in the future.



MISS KIM

Sgt. Havash to marry Korean nurse

Mr. and Mrs. Kim of Seoul, Korea announce the engagement of their daughter, Song Cha, to Sergeant John S. Havash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Havash of 37700 Castle Drive, Romulus.

Sergeant Havash is a 1966 graduate of Romulus High School and an honor graduate of the International Data Processing Institute of Detroit. He is currently serving with the U.S. Air Force as a medical technician at Osan Air Force Base in Korea while studying electronics technology.

Miss Kim is an operating room nurse at Myong-Dang Hospital in Seoul.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Screens set garden tone

Planters and screens lend focal points to garden landscaping. Combined with plantings, screens of western wood attractively separate outdoor living areas of a yard.

Screens serve a basic background role, as most plantings change personalities with the seasons, or are planted anew each year. Screens also afford privacy without blocking air circulation necessary for healthy plant growth.

A staggered set of three five-foot screens attached to planter boxes can be different. The planters, built of 2x8-inch western red cedar boards, are one, two and three boards high, which gives the stair-step effect.

The screens are of 1x2-inch strips, spaced a half-inch apart on a frame of 2x4-inch red cedar. Louvered screens of 1x4 boards also could be used.

Planter screen combinations can be used to add a more distinctive look to a flat, uninspired front yard, or to semi-enclose a backyard outdoor living or entertaining area. Beauty and utility can be combined readily.

Rhode Island Red chickens were developed, of course, in Rhode Island.

Indoor-outdoor design creates pleasant living

Design principles for interior decorating can be used as well in yards and gardens, say Michigan State University extension specialists. The laws of scale, color, shape and special relationships apply to natural as well as manmade objects—trees and furniture; shrubbery and paintings, according to Margaret Boschetti, home furnishing specialist, and Joe Cox, landscape artchitect.

They make these suggestions for maximizing the use and beauty of "living space":

—Start with what you have. An analysis of the positive and negative features of your home will help you devise a plan for improvement.

Consider the size and shape of each room, and of your lot or lawn. Where are the traffic paths and permanently installed objects? How do you use the neighboring spaces—both inside and out?

—Analyze your family's needs. Most families need room for three major activities around the home: private, social and work. Ideally, the spaces provided for these needs are adjacent to each other. For example, outside service areas such as the garage and garden would be near the kitchen and inside utility areas. Exterior living spaces, patios, porches, etc., are a natural extension of the indoor living and dining areas.

—Make a plan for organizing the total space. Ask yourself what placement of chairs, tables, patio furniture, recreation areas, etc. is best for the traffic patterns, the structural and mechanical features of your home. How do the flowers and furniture look against their backgrounds? Does the plan meet your family's needs to the fullest?

—Experiment with visual balance to create a feeling that is comfortable without being commonplace. Too much symmetry is monotonous; whether in an uninterrupted row of shrubs or a sofa flanked by identical lamps and end tables. Strive for unusual arrangements. Whether your family is active or relaxed, formal or informal, the arrangement of furniture and plantings can reflect your life style.

—Consider the relationship between furnishings and plantings and the spaces they occupy. Organic materials in the natural environment constantly change in color, texture, form and mass while they remain stationary in the landscape, the specialists point out. To introduce variety inside, rearrange furnishings as often as your family wants.

The appearance of plants at maturity should guide you in selecting and planting them; shifting of accessories constantly challenges your imagination to create new interior compositions.

Details add depth and richness to the total plan. For example, do your room and yard contain a surprise or two to delight the eye? A basket of pine cones beside the fireplace? A ceramic bird perched near a potted plant? A moss-covered stump nestled in an out-of-the-way corner of your garden?

Remember that experimentation and freedom to try the dramatic often pay off, the specialists agree.

Mrs. Horste entertains Garden Club

The June meeting of the Van Buren Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Violet Horste of Haggerty Road. Twelve members were on hand to enjoy the pot-luck dinner at which time Miss Ellen Gould's birthday was celebrated with a lovely cake.

The regular business meeting was held during which the programs for the next year were planned.

Deerings join tour to Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Deering of W. Huron River Dr. returned home July 4th from an extensive tour of Alaska. On June 11th the Deerings left Belleville and drove to Buffalo where their son-in-law and daughter the Otto Linde Manns drove them to Toronto where they took the train to Edmonton.

From there they joined a chartered bus tour directed by Rev. Clarkson Smith of Chatham. There were 40 on the tour and they visited many interesting and beautiful places; among them being the Inside Passage by ferry boat; Rogers Pass, the Selkirk Mts., the Narrow gage railroad, and the trail of 1898 from White Horse to Skagway.

Also up the Alaskan Highway, from Ft. St. John, to Ft. Nelson, Dawson Creek, Dawson City, White Horse, Fairbanks, and the University of Alaska. Also a Ferry boat from Vancouver to Victoria, British Columbia. Also Banff and Lake Louise.

The Deerings again took the train for Toronto where they were met by the Lindemanns returning to Buffalo where they remained overnight July 3rd returning to Belleville July 4.

MRS. JAMES GAA

Marilyn Gaa receives BA from Webster

George and Marie Smith of Belleville are proud to announce the graduation of their daughter, Marilyn Smith Gaa, from Webster College, St. Louis, Missouri. Marilyn, who majored in art, received a Bachelor of Arts Degree and plans to teach and do free lance artwork.

Marilyn graduated from Belleville High School in 1967 and attended Michigan State University for three years prior to transferring to Webster. She and her husband, James, currently reside in St. Louis.

The commencement program included a talk by Dr. Leigh Gerdine, president of Webster College, followed by a Renaissance Fair with refreshments and entertainment on the campus lawn adjoining the auditorium.

Paneled doors add elegance

Solid wood doors help establish a cordial atmosphere at a home's entrance, and new carved panel patterns, gaining in popularity, are especially elegant.

A variety of entrance doors, with window panels, and interior doors manufactured of kilndried Douglas fir or western hemlock, impart a solid, well-established feeling to a new or existing home.

For areas frequently closed off, such as laundry or sewing room, bifold louvered doors combine quick access with durability. Fir and hemlock doors take a variety of finishes.

Tree adds beauty

A favorite decorative tree needn't spoil plans for adding a wood deck to a yard. Just build around it, using tree as focal point.

Mrs. T. E. Burlingame of W. Huron River Dr., Mrs. Harold Leschinske of E. Columbia Ave., and her daughter Mrs. Ted Stickney of Detroit were among the pleasure seekers that took a boat trip on the Steamer Columbia to Port Huron on July 5th.

SUMMER REFRESHER — Here's a quick drink for those hot summer days ahead. A bright and cheerful Golden Glow Punch can be the answer to carefree teenage entertaining. This punch receives strong parental approval since one of the main ingredients, instant breakfast drink, provides vitamins C and A that might have been missed during the day. (Courtesy Tang Instant Breakfast Drink.)

Carefree entertaining for the teen-age set

Easygoing refreshments can be the answer to carefree entertaining. And if the entertaining is for teen-agers it is even more important to have the preparations as simple as possible. For then the young people can be in complete charge.

Pictured here are refreshments special enough for a celebration and easy enough for youngsters to prepare. The Golden Glow Punch is a zesty combination of instant breakfast drink (good day and night), frozen concentrate for lemonade, water, frozen strawberries, and chilled club soda. The bright color and tangy flavor of the punch are particularly appealing to the younger set. Adults, too, are strong in their approval since the instant breakfast drink contains more Vitamins C and A than citrus juices or tomato juice. Could there be any better recommendation?

For a great tasting snack to satisfy those hearty teen appetites, serve the ever-popular "Hero" sandwich (or Grinder, Submarine, or Hoagie). Buy small individual Italian or French bread loaves and let the kids make their own combinations from an assortment of ham, roast beef, salami, cheese, lettuce, tomatoes, and peppers.

GOLDEN GLOW PUNCH

½ cup orange-flavored instant breakfast drink
1 can (6 oz.) frozen concentrate for lemonade
4 cups water
1 package (10 oz.) frozen strawberries in quick thaw pouch, partially thawed
2 bottles (7 oz. each) club soda, chilled Ice cubes

Combine instant breakfast drink, lemonade, water, and strawberries. Stir until instant breakfast drink is dissolved and strawberries separated. Chill. Just before serving, stir in club soda and ice cubes. Serve in punch cups. Makes about 2 quarts or 16 servings.

Patio perks dreary yard

A bonanza of outdoor living enjoyment can be created with a patio of western wood, beautifying and making useful idle land surrounding the house.

Pockets of privacy from weather or neighbors can be formed with screens. Sweeping decks can transform a grassy plot into a party room complete with benches, gazebos and garden "rooms."

Patios are a flexible home addition, with designs to suit the scale or style of any house, complementing existing landscaping, and providing relief from wind or sun.

Decks and yard structures, such as a gazebo for barbecuing and serving alfresco meals can relieve the monotony of look-alike adjacent houses.

Sloping lots can be landscaped with a patio incorporating decks on several levels, wide stairways of wood, and planter boxes of flowers or terraced planter areas.

For an eight-page, colorfully illustrated booklet on ways to landscape your yard with patios of western wood, send 15 cents in coin to Western Wood Products Assn., Dept. 523-P, Yeon Bldg., Portland, OR 97204.

Otter -Nagy wed

Couple exchange vows at St. Roch's Church

Huron High School graduates, Dorothy Ann Nagy and Rodney David Otter, exchanged nuptial vows July 10 at St. Roch's Catholic Church in Flat Rock. Father Kass officiated the one o'clock ceremony at which double ring vows were solemnized.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nagy who recently moved to their summer home in Cement City to make it their permanent residence. They formerly resided at 36566 Willow Road, New Boston.

The bridegroom's parents are Duane Otter of 38185 Judd Road and Mrs. Dorothy Otter of 6641 West Road, both in New Boston.

FOR HER WEDDING day, Dorothy donned a Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a high neckline and bishop sleeves on the little fitted bodice, her tiered bouffant skirt cascading into a chapel-length train.

Securing her silk illusion veil which drifted to mid-back length was a triple queen's crown of crystals and seed pearls. White miniature mums and yellow sweetheart roses formed into a double cascade bouquet completed her bridal ensemble.

A blue satin and chiffon gown styled in the A-line fashion and frosted with eyelet lace was worn by the bride's only attendant, Darlene Pello. In addition she wore a matching headpiece and carried an arrangement of miniature yellow carnations.

David Shaffer served as best man and ushers were John Otter and Anton and Aaron Nagy, brothers of the bridal pair.

MRS. NAGY CHOSE for her daughter's wedding a street-length dress of blue silk with a pleated chiffon skirt and matching accessories.

The V.F.W. Hall in Trenton was reserved for the reception which followed. Some 300 friends and relatives attended from Trenton, Southgate, Detroit, Flat Rock, Belleville, and New Boston Out-of-state guests were the Junior Anton Nagys from Corpus Christi, Texas; the Ernest Otters of Goodland, Florida; and the Kirby family from Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Following their honeymoon in northern Michigan, the newlyweds will make their home in the New Boston area. The bridegroom, who served for 18 months with the U. S. Army, is currently employed by the Osborne Trucking Company.

Disposable fabrics to aid pollution

"Wste," a key word in today's environmental crisis even applies to fabrics, says Bernetta Kahabka, extension textiles specialist at Michigan State University.

Manufactuerers and consumers are becoming more an more concerned about what happens to products after they have been used, she says. Do certain methods of disposal contribute to the pollution problem? How can these be improved?

Manufacturers and consumers are becoming more an more concerned about what happens to products after they have been used, she says. Do certain methods of disposal contribute to the pollution problem? How can these be improved?

Manufacturers of nonwoven disposable fabrics (diapers, sheets, pillowcases, blankets, industrial uniforms, etc). are developing methods of handling these products after use.

One manufacturer is selling a compactor which can compress garbage at a ten-to-one ratio. The compressed packages can be used as land fill.

Another process reclaims and recycles disposables, Miss Kahabka explains. They are beaten with water to form a usable pulp.

Self-destructing methods are a new development especially for use in throwaway undergarments. There is a rayon paper that disintegrates in water and can be flushed away. One self-destructing process uses additives which aborb ultraviolet light and cause the fiber to degrade.

Incinceration is a good way to get rid of disposables, especially in surgical products with danger of contamination One drawback, the specialist says, is that some fire-retardant chemicals used in treating disposables give off danerous fumes when burned

All of these methods are based on the principle of cumer cooperation, Miss Kahabka says. Every process of waste disposal requires that consumers recognize the importance of discarding used textile disposables separtely from other waste products.

Dealers diversify

An estimated 70 percent of all materials used in light construction is sold through lumber yards and other retailers. One-third of these dealers also are home builders, and two-fifths of them sell package remodeling.

"While beautiful legs are common among women, it is beautiful hands that are rare," noted Ed Durling. "Only one woman in 5,000 has a pair of really beautiful hands." . . . . Girls remain ticklish until a later age than do boys. So contend scholars at Wayne State University who insist their research on the matter has been both serious and scientific.

Ever have trouble with your speech? Consider this. What follows is a paragraph from "Pirate's Treasure" that's said to contain all our vowels, consonants and dipthongs. If you can read it aloud correctly, it's believed you're capable of pronouncing every word in the English language: "The lodgekeeper had found an old chart written in peculiar gibber. He was able to make it out, however, and learned from it that a choice and rare old treasure was buried four or five feet under the ground on the very spot where the new schoolhouse stood. He was sure he could find it, if he obeyed instructions. And after several trials, at last he did unearth it. But as he was lifting it out, the box fell all to pieces and its various contents tumbled back into the pit."

Customer service: Q. "How many times does your heart beat in 24 hours?" A. Mine? Just 103,689 times, presumably. That's average. And the blood travels 168 million miles. Breathe 23,040 times, inhale 438 cubic feet of air, eat 3.5 pounds of food, drink 2.9 quarts of liquid, speak 4,800 words, move 750 muscles, and exercise 7 million brain cells, hopefully.

Our love and war man says no husband wants his wife to trust him completely. "Men like to be regarded as a bit dangerous," he says. "A wife who announced publicly that her husband would never stray errs. However true, it's insulting.

A 100-watt light bulb is said to last an average of 750 hours. A 60-watt bulb, 1,000 hours. A 15-watter, 2,500 hours. Or so say the testers of same. . . . Horses, at least some horses, talk to one another. Such is the dubious claim of a German scientist. He insists his studies reveal six distinguishable words in horse talk.

What color is Friday? Ask grownups that, and they'll look at you oddly. Ask children, and they'll tell you. I've tried this experiment on numerous occasions. It always works. Grownups raise their eyebrows and smile sardonically. Children answer red, orange, purple, whatever. That color children most often most often mention for Firday is orange, incidentally. Saturday is red, they say, usually.

Rapid reply: Quite true, Mrs. T., it's sad statistical fact that just about 1,000 women a year are shocked to death by their electric toasters.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

Tomorrow's forecast
from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: A rebellious frame of mind can keep you from getting the results you want. You can greatly benefit by putting in motion a new course of action that means much to you. Make a special point to study various changes that can increase your success. Put them in effect quickly.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can do just about whatever you please today, provided you do not permit kin or friends to change your original plans. You are brilliant now and can accomplish a good deal.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't be so stubborn and discontented that you upset everyone around you and then regret it later. Doing something constructive is the best way to solve the problem.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Plan some time with friends you like. This could be helpful to you, so call early and make appointments to see them. Sociability can be most enjoyable and good for your interest. Don't argue.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) If you listen to suggestions from higher-ups and follow them, you can accomplish much today and add to present prestige. Find right methods to improve your job

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try a new approach if you want to gain the aims that mean so much to you. Study new methods that are very effective. Making new contacts is fine today. Relax in the evening.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show that you are conscientious in carrying through with promises you have made. Consider ideas of mate that are quite different. They could have merit.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't permit a disturbing condition to keep you from carrying on with important work you have ahead. If you get on the good side of one older than you, problems soon vanish.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to get an early start if you are to complete those jobs left undone. Plan to fix your wardrobe so that the active days ahead can be successful ones. Keep out of arguments. Be wise.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You may have to make different arrangements early if you to have a fine day and a happy evening with others. Romance is on your mind and that is all right. Show that you have poise and charm.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make your home a more charming and comfortable place and please kin. Add pieces of art that are delightful and a joy to own. Stop thinking about unimportant matters and get more out of life.

Aquarius (Jan. 2 to Feb. 19) You are thinking very fast and could make changes to a plan that is really ideal. Much care in travel is necessary at this time. Avoid accidents that are costly.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Start thinking seriously about monetary matters in the morning. Don't permit impractical partner to sidetrack you. Show that you have good common sense. Show gratitude for favors of a bigwig in business.

If your child is born today he or she will be one who will push through with ideas of the most modern age without accepting opposition from others who are not so far-seeing. If determined, success is bound to come. Teach early to be objective and not to argue with others and the road of life will be much easier to traverse. Give as many social and cultural advantages as you can early in life. Some discipline is good.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

Mobile home industry in trouble, says official

Representatives of the Michigan mobile home industry and financial institutions are holding emergency meetings with Michigan legislators and departments of State government in an effort to clarify the law relating to mobile home financing.

A recent opinion by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley focused attention on an area of legal confusion.

What's the emergency?

Dan Dowsett, executive secretary of the Michigan Mobile Home Institute, says:

"Michigan's $250,000,000 per year mobile home industry is paralyzed since the opinion because banks choose not to lend without clearly defined legal authority.

"Meantime, thousands of buyers want loans for their new homes and are quite willing to pay the current rate which is far below what they could have been charged under the Retail Installment Sales Act.

"These consumers are now stranded while waiting to move to their new homes.

"Sales of mobile homes," he says, "have completely stopped. Manufacturing is being cutback. Ten thousand jobs are in jeopardy."

The 20,000 new units sold annually in Michigan represent 25 per cent of all housing starts in the State. Approximately half of the homes are financed on five or seven year contracts mostly by young married couples who pay an average price of about $6800. for their completely furnished homes.

—Since mobile homes are sold completely furnished, installment buyers actually have been saving on finance charges for refrigerators, stoves, carpeting and other furniture which are part of the complete package financed for 10 per cent to 12 per cent instead of the 18 per cent charged by most department and appliance stores.

What's to be done?

Dowsett siad that it is urgent that every effort be made to insure a final action that will adequately protect the 100,000 Michigan families living in mobile housing.

He said that each delay of a day in solving the financing problem is harmful to Michigan's fast growing mobile home industry which now ranks fifth in the nation in supplying low cost, modern housing to thousands of families.

Ford bill to counter postal employee gag

A two-pronged attack on the U.S. Postal Service "gag rule" was launched last week by Congressman William D. Ford, a member of the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service.

Congressman Ford has been one of the most vociferous opponents of the "gag rule," by which Postmaster General Winton Blount has attempted to keep postal employees from taking their complaints or questions to members of Congress.

On Monday, Congressman Ford won House approval of an amendment to an appropriations bill for the Postal Service, which would prohibit any part of the appropriation from being used to pay the salary of anyone attempting to enforce the gag rule.

Also on Monday, he introduced a bill to guarantee the right of Postal Service employees to communicate with members of Congress. Congressman Ford's bill would provide for a fine of up to $1,000 and imprisonment of up to one year for any federal officer or employee who discriminated against any postal employee for communicating wth a member of Congress or a Congressional committee.

The gag rule controversy dates back to early January, when Blount issued a memorandum ordering postal employees to "immediately cease any direct or indirect contacts with Congressional offices on matters involving the Postal Service."

Congressman Ford immediately wrote to all postmasters and postal union leaders in his district, urging them to disregard the gag rule and to continue contacts with him and his office as in the past.

He declared that the order was in "direct contradiction to federal statutes and to the constitutional right of all Americans to ask their elected representatives for assistance in any matter."

In his amendment to the postal appropriations bill Congressman Ford specified that none of the money be used to pay the salary of any "officer or employee of the U.S. Postal Service who: Prohibits or prevents, or attempts to prohibit or prevent, any officer or employee of the U.S. Postal Service from having any direct oral or written communication with any member or committee of Congress in connection with any matter pertaining to the employment of such officer or employee or pertaining to the Postal Service in any way ..."

The prohibition also applies to any officer or employee who: "Removes, suspends from duty without pay; demotes; reduces in rank, seniority, status, pay or performance or efficiency rating; denies promotion to; relocates, reassigns, transfers, disciplines or discriminates in regard to any employment right, entitlement, or benefit, or any term or condition of employment ... by reason of any communication or contact ... with any member or committee of Congress."

In his other legislation, Congressman Ford declared that he was both guaranteeing the right of postal employees to communicate with members of Congress, and assuring Congress that it will have direct access to the information it needs to evaluate the operation of the Postal Service.

"This bill would prohibit anyone from interfering with the postal employee's right to communicate freely.

"It is unfortunate that legislation of this nature has become necessary. However in view of the policies being implemented by the Postmaster General, I can see no other way to guarantee the postal employee's right to communicate with his elected representative in Congress," Congressman Ford asserted.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

When God created the universe and the things in it, He provided protection for the lowly, slow moving turtle. In modern language, we might even call it a form of social security. God gave the turtle a shell for his house, a protection against elements and enemies. The turtle has only to put his neck out to eat. Far more important though is the thought that even the turtle MUST stick his neck out to go forward.

God made the eagle too. The eagle roams and soars through spacious skies. Without being told, the eagle instinctively builds a home on high mountain peaks. Miles mean nothing when with strong, undaunted courage the eagle flies through and fights storms, snow and wind when winging for food.

The turtle has its place and purpose. But, isn't it significant and shouldn't we be proud that the eagle, not the turtle, is the emblem of America? Incidentally, whether you agree or disagree with this or any other comment you read in these articles, feel free and welcome to phone or write us about your thoughts.

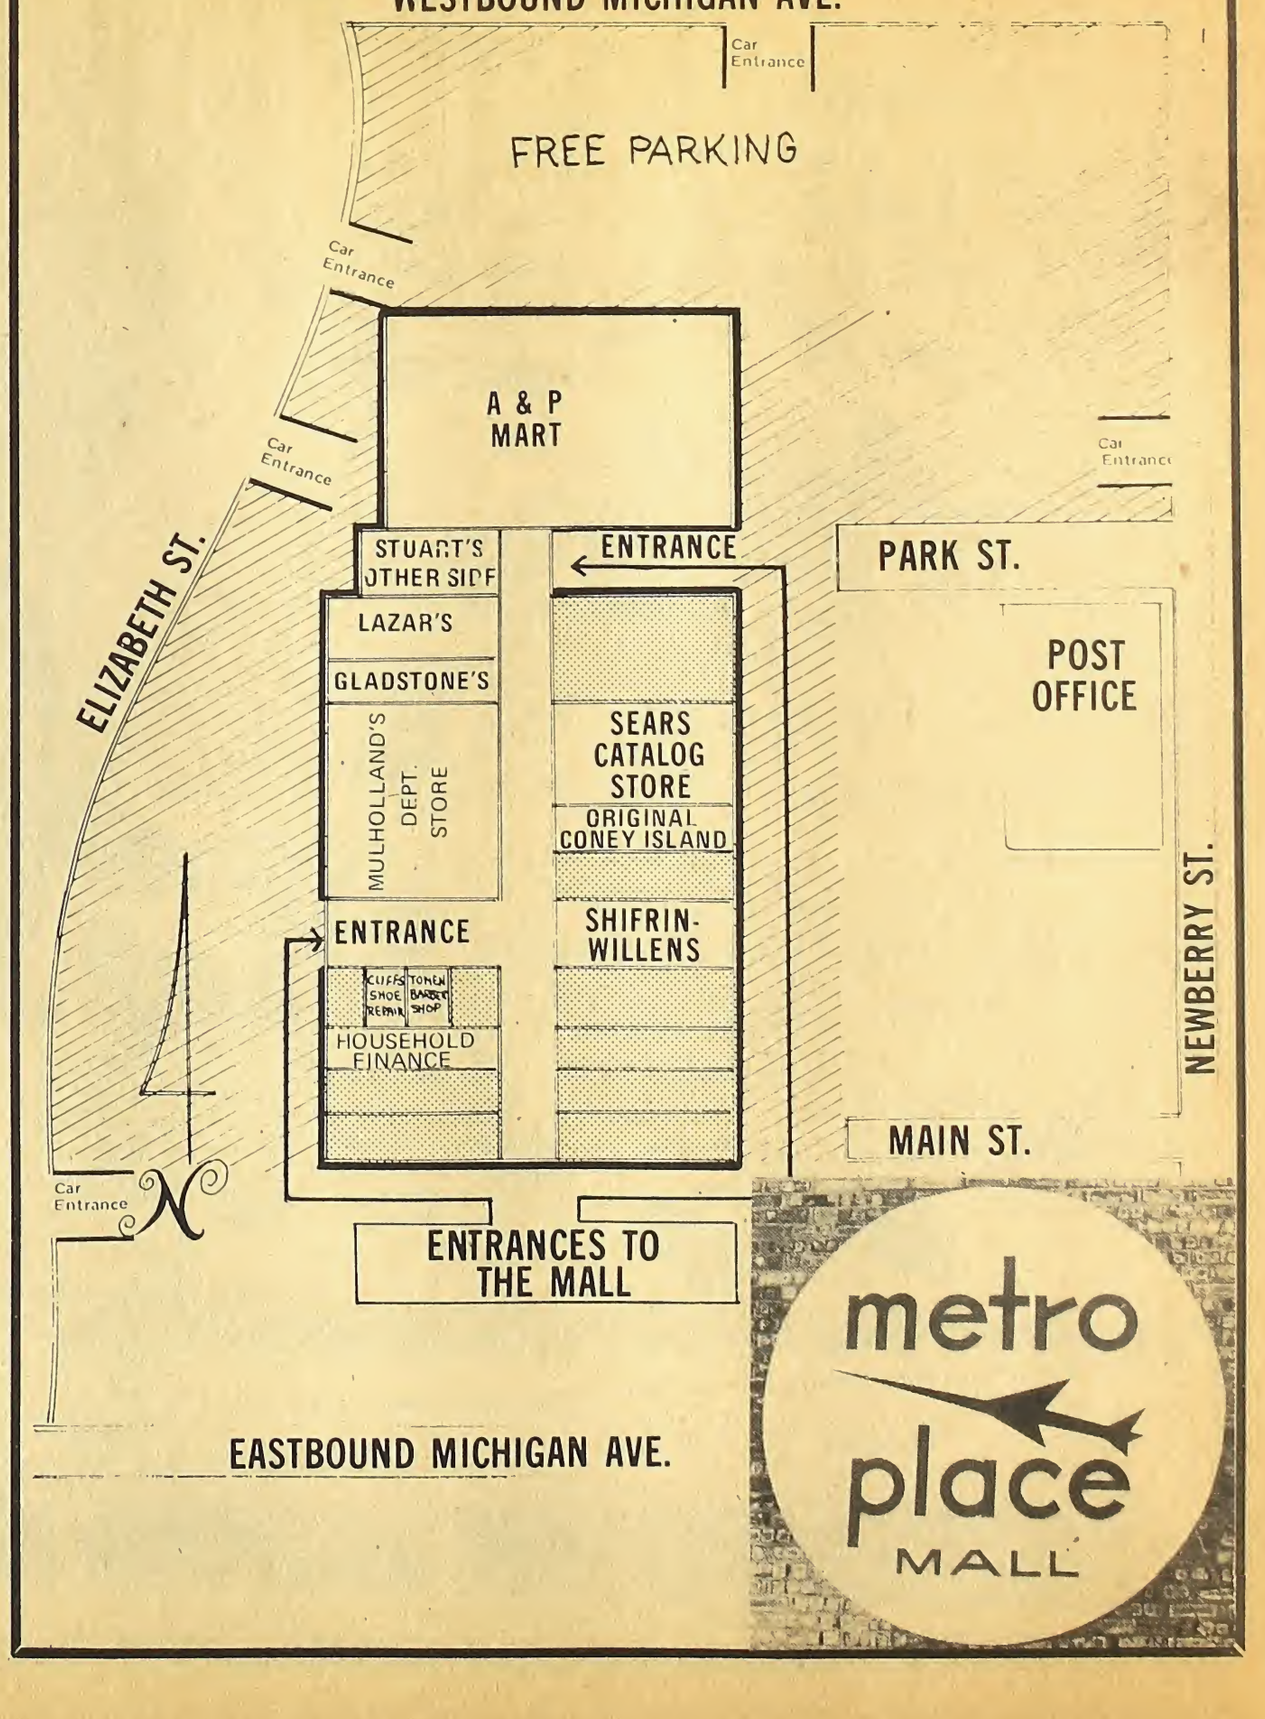
YOUR GUIDE TO WAYNE'S NEW METRO PLACE MALL



National revue turns dreams into reality

Every young girl dreams of being a storybook princess with a prince charming gazing at her in admiration.

And 51 young ladies may bring their dreams to reality in Chicago later this year. Representing their home state and Puerto Rico, each will glide across the stage in self-created ensembles at the 1971 National 4-H Dress Revue sponsored by Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.

The event climaxes a year's activity in which more than 350,000 4-H girls have participated in county and state dress revues conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. Theme of the 1971 revue, sponsored by Simplicity for the 25th time, is Storybook Fashions.

With a "Prince Charming" to open the gala event and a "Fairy Godmother" to introduce the winners and describe their ensembles, the Conrad Hilton ballroom will become a virtual dream castle. And the audience of loyal subjects will include more than 1,600 delegates to the 50th National 4-H Congress.

At the close of the 1971 National 4-H Dress Revue, six winners will be awarded $700 scholarships. Selection of the scholarship recipients will be made on the basis of their 4-H records, leadership and work in the dress revue program.

During the National 4-H Congress, the 31 girls as guests of Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., will be recognized at a special supper. They also will see a preview of spring fashions and participate in tours and educational programs with other delegates.

Leading to this gala event, 4-H girls are expected to earn more than 26,000 medals of honor at county dress revues. The company, though the National 4-H Service Committee, also provides these awards and gives added support through assistance of its 4-H stylists and publications on modeling.

WHEREAS, under Section 131C of Act 206, Public Acts of 1893, as amended, the owners are permitted to further redeem properties of which the State becomes the owner May 4, 1971.

WHEREAS, the municipalities in which the properties are located must approve the application of the owner to pay the 1970 and prior year's taxes, and,

WHEREAS, the convenience of the taxpaying public demands that the information be obtained and arrangements to pay said taxes be accomplished in one office.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That, Louis H. Funk, Wayne County Treasurer, is, by this resolution, authorized to act as representative and agent of the City of Romulus for the purpose of approving the application of the property owners to pay the 1970 and prior years' taxes and accept the necessary monies, the same to be forwarded to Lansing, Michigan by him.

2. That the County Treasurer is further authorized by:
City of Romulus to request of the Department of Natural Resources, Lands Division, the withholding of properties from the auction sale until Novemeber 1, 1971, provided that sufficient monies are deposited with County Treasurer to effect redemption.

3. That the County Treasurer is to periodically report to:
The City of Romulus the properties withheld by him and redeemed.

4. That a copy of this resolution be mailed to the Department of Natural Resources, Land Division, Lansing, Michigan.

Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Stewart, Oakley, Block, Bizek, Pennington, Raspberry. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

17. Motion by Stewart, supported by Block, that Warrant No. 45 be approved as presented with the inclusion of those items deleted from Warrant No. 44. Roll call vote showing:Ayes - Stewart, Oakley, Block, Bizek, Pennington, Raspberry. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

18. Motion by Pennington, supported by Stewart, that tentative approval for a No-Fee Permit be granted to James M. Fitzgerald, 28987 Beverly Road for a tent church revival. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Stewart, Oakley, Block, Bizek, Pennington, Raspberry. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

19. Motion by Pennington, supported by Oakley, that the meeting be adjourned. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Stewart, Oakley, Block, Bizek, Pennington, Raspberry. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

Respectfully submitted,
Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk
City of Romulus

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Romulus City Council held on July 6, 1971.

RYBA earns contribution

The Central Business District Committee of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce has announced that a contribution of $125 will be made to the Romulus Youth Association (RYBA).

Leo Kalota, committee chairman, made the announcement of the business district's contribution for Little League activity.

The RYBA team players played a major role in the chamber's recent sweep-up campaign on Goddard Rd.

Pool hours changed

Swimming Pool hours at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville have been changed for 1971.

The hours are 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

The charge for the use of the bathhouse is 25 cents for persons of all ages and coin-operated lockers for the storage of clothes or other items rent for 25 cents each.

All females are required to wear swim caps, as are males with excessively long hair.

Food service hours are the same as at the swimming pool.

For additional details, persons may phone 697 9181.

Receives degree

A Romulus man was among 128 seniors who received diplomas at the University of Michigan-Dearborn's annual spring commencement, Sunday, June 13. Ronald R. Wheeler, 29460 Prescott, was awarded a bachelor of arts degree.

Entomology program teaches 4-Hers bugs

There are more insects in the world than all other living things put together. Entomologists estimate there are over 1.5 million different kinds with nearly 1.0 million identified and given names.

Young people who become interested in the study of insects have open to them not only a fascinating pastime but also a myriad of career opportunities.

Hercules Incorporated, one of the nation's leading chemical companies in an effort to help provide young people with more knowledge about the insect world has supported the 4-H entomology program for the past 20 years. In 1970, nearly 56,000 youths between the ages of 9 and 19 participated in various 4-H entomology activities supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

4-H'ers enrolled in the entomology program "know their bugs" - what they look like, where to find them, and how to control the harmful varieties. The young people find the useful insects, raise insects for experimental purposes trade specimens and exchange information. Some former 4-H entomologists have broadened their interests through an international teen entomology group.

Adding to the 4-H members' fun of working in entomology are the opportunities provided for recognition. Hercules Incorporated provides medals of honor for four members in each county and a $50 U.S. Savings Bond to one winner in each state. The company also treats 16 sectional winners to an expense-paid trip to the 50th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 28-Dec. 2 And at that event will award $700 educational scholarships to six accomplished young scientists.

Over two decades of association with 4-H, Hercules also has supported the development of popular educational materials. A Handbook of the Insect World is used as guide to insect identification. And two manuals for 4-H members and a leaders' guide have been developed for easy adaptation within the various states.

For more information about this activity, how to enroll or how to participate as a volunteer leader, contact the county extension office or the state 4-H leader at the land-grant university.

AFL-CIO Union officials urge support of Blue Cross bill

In a letter delivered to all members of the State Legislature, President William C. Marshall and Secretary-Treasurer Walter Campbell of the Michigan State AFL-CIO urged the representatives and senators to support the Senate Substitute for House Bill 4030.

This measure would require Blue Cross to extend its customers' coverage to hospitals with which the company had no accreditation contract.

At present, if a Blue Cross member requiring hospitalization goes to any hospital in the state other than the 247 under contract with the company, he is forced to pay a much larger share of his bill than he would in one of the "contract" hospitals.

Blue Cross accreditation involves meeting standards set by that organization, over and above the standards required by the state in licensing hospitals.

In their letter to the legislators, the two labor leaders said the bill would "give our members and all Blue Cross subscribers the best protection possible" under their contracts, and provide a "Free choice of hospital and doctor and assurance that their hospital bills be paid."

"Blue Shield already pays doctors in non-participating hospitals, so why permit Blue Cross to dictate and discriminate between hospitals?" the letter asked.

In Romulus Adult Softball League

Morgan's grabs for slo-pitch title

With their nearest rival falling 2½ games off the pace, Morgan Manor's zeroed in on the Romulus Adult Softball League championship last week.

The league-frontrunners padded their record to 14-1 on the season with a pair of easy victories last week. anchor Block, the only remaining serious threat to manor's first place position is presently trailing with a 11-3 mark, while Spearman's Fine Foods are 11-4 on the year and three-games off the pace set by the leaders.

Morgan manor moved closer to the league title, overpowering Five points Bar 13 to 3 Cue Corners 21 to 11.

Anchor Block co. moved back into second place by defeating Spearman's Fine Foods 3 to 2, after rallying last Thursday to defeat Alden Electric 14 to 7 in nine innings.

Chuck Hazen clouted a two-run homer in the seventh inning to save Anchor from a third straight defeat, and Anchor held on until the ninth when they pushed across seven runs to win.

Anchor spotted Spearman's two first inning runs then came on to win. Jr. Rakotz singled home the tying run in the sixth inning and Tom Block drove home the winning score in the same frame.

Spearman's coasted by Walter's Bar 18 o 2, scoring seven times in the third inning featured by Walt Goeckel's grand slam homer and Dan Lagasse's three run round tripper, Jerry Kittle, Bill Soave and Darwin Wessel walked to set the stage for Goeckel's blast, and Al ott and Rich Spearman singled in front of Lagasse's clout.

Romulus Progressive continued to win squeaking by Cue Corners 3 to 2 then beating Alden Electric 8 to 4 on Tuesday.

In Thursday's action Walt Drewno Bill Reiber and Ron Dick singled in the fourth inning to give a 1 to 0 lead. Then, Jim Halcomb was safe on an error in the fifth inning and scored on John Sterlin'g triple.

Cue Corners scored in the last of the fifth when Ray Osak tripled and came home on Gary Nichols sacrifice fly.

Progressive scored the winning run in the sixth when Harmon Schonfeld was safe on a miscue and Lin Block and Ron Dick singled.

The Corner made it close again in its half of the sixth when John Haney and Leon James singled and Jim Polanz doubled home the games final run.

Bob Maronenallowed nine hits in his seventh win of the season. Norm McLennon allowed 10 hits in taking the loss:

Mike Sprau, Harmon Schonfeld and Jim Harris each had two RBI's in the Alden game. Schonfeld was perfect at the plate with three hits in three tries. Dan Peterlin of Alden had the games only home run, a solo second inning blast. Progressive collected 12 hits off of loser Bob St. Amand, while Bob Maronen gave up nine hits in his eighth win of the year.

Baum Funeral Home pushed across an unearned run in the bottom of the eighth to edge Theodore Limousine 6 to 5. Dave hoffman reached second base on an error, went to third on Ron Kampsen's long flyand scored the winning run on Mike Pratt's sacrifice fly. Ivan Kinshella held Theodore's to 6 hits in registering the win, while Baum collected 14 hits off of losing pitcher Bunker.

Dave hoffman had three hits in four tries,while brothers Ted and Richard Marken and Ivan Kinshella all had a pair of hits.

Baum's then went on to defeat Five Points Bar 5 to 2. Five Points scored its two runs in the first inning when Godell and Ward singled and both runners scored on an error. Baum got one back in the second when Mike Pratt tripled, Roy Hartford was safe on an error and Bob Remelius singled.

Richard Marken tied the score for Baum with a solo home run in the third.

Baum won the game with a sixth inning rally, Ted Marken tripled, Dave Hoffman hit a sacrifice fly, Ron Kampsen, Mike Pratt and Roy Hartford singled for a three run inning.

Ivan Kinshella allowed six hits in the win, while Baum's gathered nine hits from loser Wilke.

Walter's Bar defeated the Romulus Refugees 3 to 2 when George Coughlin lifted a sacrifice fly to deep right chasing Mike Kingsbury home with the winning run. Harry Bell was the winning pitcher.

Belleville is jilted

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Bad luck seems to come in bunches, and Belleville's Babe Ruth baseball entry is on the verge of falling by the wayside, just days after one of their biggest triumphs.

Belleville swept to the Babe Ruth District championship over the weekend in Ypsilanti, but the hosts didn't come through with their part of the bargain. Belleville eliminated Ypsilanti 1-0 on Friday, Morenci 15-0 on Saturday, and claimed the championship with a come from behind, 9-5 verdict over Blissfield on Sunday. The district champions are scheduled to compete in the regional tournament in Utica on the weekend of July 23-25, but Ypsilanti, the host of the district tournament, seems to have put the lid on such plans, at least for the moment.

At each district tournament game, donations were collected from spectators. It is customary, in Babe Ruth play, to present the winning team with the money collected over the course of the tournament to cover expenses as the team continues in the post season playoffs. Ypsilanti tournament director, Jesse Rutherford, didn't show up after the tournament long enough to present the winners with a trophy, let alone the money they were counting on to make it to Utica to continue in the tourney.

Joseph Stillwagon is the president of the Belleville Babe Ruth Association, and he said that the presentation of the money collected is customary. Stillwagon is puzzled over the fact that Rutherford didn't show with the money. No one seems to know where the money is or how much is in the coffers at this time.

Ypsilanti rubbed salt into the wound by not even supplying baseballs for the tournament, a chore that comes with hosting a tournament. Belleville used their own baseballs over the three game span.

Unfortunately, the coffers in the home town treasury are sorely lacking in funds. Stillwagon and other members of the association are asking help from residents of the Belleville area. Any donation, large or small, will be greatly appreciated and will be used to cover expenses incurred by the Belleville Babe Ruth team as they continue in the state tournament.

Send donations to:

From our mail pouch

Dear Mr. Mooradian,

My husband and I would like to thank you for the lovely tribute (we as proud parents feel it was) to our son in your column. This recognition in our local newspaper will do more for Ray than a month at Dick Kimball's Diving School.

And someday, with the continued support, faith and backing he has thus far received, along with lots of hard work and experience he just might make it to the Olympics. (If that is what Ray wants).

In the meantime he is basking in his local fame and attending Ron O'Brien's Diving School, trying to live up to all the kind words.

He has given us reports on two 14-year-olds down there from the East that are really outstanding.

Ray says that along with the people mentioned in your column he would like to express his gratitude to Coach Larry Tobar, Mr. Gary Gray, Coach Foster and Barry Susterka, also to the Tiger Swim Club, who have all contributed to his past success.

Thanks again for the good work you are doing for our young athletes. Also please thank your photographer for the fine diving shot.

Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Liebeler
Belleville, Mich.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Liebeler,

Thank you for the kind letter. And let me wish Ray all the luck in the world at the Regional VI Junior Olympic Diving Meet. Please let us know how he makes out as soon as possible.

It's a pity, is it not how some municipalities take care of their athletic facilities once they are put into operation.

The case in point is Ford Field, the once magnificent diamond at Schoolcraft and Farmington Rds. in Livonia.

One of the fans remarked: "That was once a pleasure to go out there and watch a baseball game. The place is nothing but a huge sand dune now.

"After all the money we taxpayers have paid, I feel something should be done to get the field back to respectability," he said.

Isn't that the field where they hold many prep baseball tournaments, including the Les Anders Invitational? If it is, then that field was once the gem of the Livonia Parks and Recreation Department.

And we know that department to be one that is responsive to the public demands.

Surely the good people at the recreation department can do something to maintain that facility as one of the best in the area. It has been known to be so in the past.

One major concern of local sandlot coaches is that "the real outstanding baseball players head for outside the area to get exposure." And they offer names (which we will not use) of those players who should be in lineup on teams in the area rather than boosting the chances of Detroit teams.

What do we do to stop this exodus of "stars"?

I really don't know.

But we do feel that some sort of communication must be set up with the parents of these potentially good players in order that they understand that their youngster would do well by himself to play in the area.

It is a fallacy to believe that these players will receive more "exposure" in Detroit than right here. A baseball scout, I am told, will go anywhere to watch a prospective "big leaguer".

"If the kid has it, we will seek him out even if he's on an island," said Ed Katalinas, director of player procurement."

WINS AT HORSE SHOWS — Frederick M. Hay, 19 of Romulus, of Romulus, receives the first place trophy and blue ribbon award at the Ohio Buckeye Sweepstakes in Columbus. He also won at the 1971 Illinois Arabian Horse Show in Springfield, where he bested 30 entries in the Arabian Western Pleasure class. This is the first year of showing and riding his purebred champion Arabian Stallion, "Al Marsh Kontiki."

Belleville Little League

Giants unseat Dodgers as National's 'kings'

The Dodgers' reign as ruler of the Belleville Little League's National Division is over.

For four years, the undisputed king has dominated the league, but the Giants finally unseated the perennial champs, snatching the crown away from their rivals by virtue of a 13-1 record.

Mop-up operations in the league began last week as the Braves trimmed the Cards 4-1 in the finale.

The game was dominated by the pitchers who were in control most of the way.

Dan Peterson, who had missed most of the season because of a sore pitching arm, turned in an outstanding performance for the Braves on the hill.

Peterson chalked up the victory as he went the distance, yielding one hit. He had his control to the end, walking none and notching 12 strikeouts.

The braves committed four errors.

Peterson's bid for a no-hitter was wrecked by David Ruff who smacked a single to account for the lone Cardinal single. Card pitching yielded five hits, walked five and fanned seven.

Parks enjoying record attendance

Park attendance on July 4th (Sunday of this year) was the second highest at most Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks, with total visitors at 259,622 for the 3-day holiday.

Weather was bright and sunny with temperatures hitting 85 degrees on Saturday and Sunday, but rain on Monday, July 5 (legal holiday) reduced expected attendance for the 3-day holiday. Previous 3-day totals: 1970 - 268,640; 1969 - 205,810; 4-day total — 1968 — 347,060.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford had 66,100 visitors this past week-end compared to 65,100 in 1970, with the record high of 113,400 for a 4-day holiday in 1968.

The July 4 (single day) attendance was as follows: 1971 — 28,800; 1970 — 28,500; 1969 — 19,200; and 1968 — 45,700.

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville had 38,600 visitors this past weekend compared to 40,720 in 1970, with a high of 52,100 for a 4-day holiday in 1968.

July 4 (single day) attendance was as follows: 1971 — 16,700; 1970 — 17,300; 1969 — 12,200; and 1968 — 23,500.

Willow Metropolitan Park, a new site under development between New Boston and the Village of Willow, had 2,142 visitors for the 3 days in 1971.

The three Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks in Washtenaw County had a total of 14,230 visitors over the week-end, compared to 12,120 in 1970 and 9,350 in 1969.

Comparative totals for July 4 (single day for all 3 parks) was 7,039 in 1971; 4,710 in 1970 and 2,500 in 1969, each covering Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Parks.

Golf anyone?

A golf tournament for residents of Van Buren Township and the City of Belleville will be held on Friday, July 17, Bryan Killingbeck, director of Van Buren Township's Summer Recreation Program, announced Monday.

The golf contest will be conducted at Don's Executive Golf Course, located at 50521 W. Huron River Dr., Belleville, during the hours of 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The registration fee is $1 plus green fee of $2.

Three pins will be placed on greens around the golf course. Golfers coming closest to the pins will win a prize.

The golf tournament is one of five phases of the summer recreation program currently being held in Van Buren Township and the Belleville area under township sponsorship.

Lions start drills at Cranbrook today

Forget the temperature... think football.

That is what the Detroit Lions are doing right now as the first contingent of players heads for early drills today at the club's long-time training camp at Cranbrook School.

Head Coach Joe Schmidt, starting under terms of a new three-year "self-renewing" contract, will greet a 45-player squad comprised of 25 rookies and 19 invited veterans. An additional 24 veterans will check in for Sunday dinner (July 18) with the first drills for the entire squad scheduled for Tuesday, July 20.

Three Lion rookies will not join the team until after the College All-Star Game in Chicago. Bob Bell, the big defensive tackle from Cincinnati; offensive lineman Dave Thompson from Clemson, and Charlie Weaver, Southern California linebacker, will oppose the Baltimore Colts, defending Super Bowl champs, on Friday night, July 30.

Bell was the Lions' No. 1 choice while Thompson and Weaver were both picked on the second round. All three earned All-America ratings. They will hit the Lion camp July 31.

Two recent draftees—tackle Brownie Wheless of Rice and defensive back Tom Kutschinski of Michigan State—have decided not to play pro ball this year for physical reasons. Wheless recently underwent abdominal surgery while Kutschinski faces the probability of a knee operation.

"This looks like it will be one of the toughest camps we've ever run," Schmidt stated. "We have more competition for positions. I'm not saying right now that our rookies are going to chase a flock of veterans out of a job. But I know for a fact that all of our vets are not automatically assured of surviving the final cuts."

The first unit of players reports at 6:00 p.m. Tuesday (July 13) for dinner. Physical exams will be held the following morning with first drills that afternoon. The remainder of the squad reports for 6:00 p.m. dinner the following Sunday with physicals scheduled Monday morning. Annual Photo Day will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday afternoon.

Drills will be held twice a day through August 4 at practice sessions open only to the press. First public appearance of the team will be Saturday night, July 31, when the annual Inter-Squad Scrimmage is held at Flint's Atwood Stadium under auspices of the Flint Jaycees and Detroit Lion Alumni Association. All tickets are $3.

All three quarterbacks—Bill Munson, Greg Landry and rookie Frank Harris—will be on hand for the early drills along with backs Steve Owens and Bruce Maxwell from the 1970 team plus rookie runners Mickey Zofko of Auburn, Dave Abercrombie of Tulane, Wilson Bowie of USC, and Joe Zelmanski, a free agent from Buffalo.

Zelmanski is one of six free agent players invited to the rookie camp. Others are tackle Joe Andrews, former Southfield high star who played Service ball in Germany; Jay Bachman, a center from Cincinnati; Bill Mitchell, defensive back from Grambling, linebacker Bob Zins from Alma College and Cookie Sanders, younger brother of the Lions' All-Pro tight end, Charlie Sanders. Cookie is a 6-5, 225-pounder from Shaw College.

Tennis program is hit

The initial classes of a summer tennis program sponsored by Van Buren Township have been termed a success by Bryan Killingbeck, director of the township's summer recreation program.

The tennis program is one of the five programs embraced in the summer recreational activities of the township which is opened to Belleville city residents as well as residents of the township.

The township's summer recreation program opened June 28 and runs through Aug. 6.

The game of tennis has been absent as a school sport in the City of Belleville since 1955 when the senior high school added on a new music wing.

William Lloyd tennis instructor, reported that the opening classes in the tennis program were at capacity.

The classes are held on two tennis courts adjacent to the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd. Registration is available at the tennis courts.

The schedule in the Summer Tennis Program is as follows:

Beginners at 9 a.m. and intermediate at 10 to 11 a.m.
